BRITAIN NAMES NEW MINISTER OF PROPAGANDA

Duff Cooper to Far East; Bracken In.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 21 [Monday].—A new government reshuffle was announced early today. Except for one position the changes are of minor importance. It is unlikely the shakeup will satisfy the growing demand that one man be appointed to govern industrial production, as was the case in the last war.

Brendan Bracken.

The one important change was the appointment of Brendan Bracken, Prime Minister Churchill's parliamentary private secretary, as minister of information to succeed Alfred Duff Cooper.

Bracken is 40 years old and becomes the fourth minister of information since the war began. He is a former editor who often has been critical of the ministry as run by other chiefs.

Duff Cooper May Go to Far East.

Duff Cooper was kept in the cabinet as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, but he will be sent to the far east as a special war coördinator with duties similar to those of Capt. Oliver Lyttleton, who recently was named coördinator in the middle east with cabinet rank. It is expected Duff Cooper will be sent to Singapore.

It is noteworthy that Bracken and Duff Cooper had nothing to do with charges recently made in the house of commons that British production is lagging below capacity.

Some astonishment also was expressed that Churchill appointed his son-in-law, Duncan Sandys, who is only 33 years old, to be financial secretary to the war office, and it was noted that even among minor appointments the prime minister's friends received favor.

Cross May Be Telling Truth.

Another development of the day was an indication that so far as higher ups are concerned the recent statement by Sir Ronald Cross, new British high commissioner to Australia, that "the Russian system of government is hated all over Great Britain," he might have been telling the truth. Ten thousand railway workers of Wales yesterday had demanded Sir Ronald's recall for his remarks.

Despite almost unanimous efforts of the press to picture the Russian colossus as a noble, full-fledged ally of the government, indications of a deepseated aversion to communism are reported among powerful elements here.

Deplore "Old Gang's Protest."

The Sunday Pictorial, under the caption, "The Old Gang," editorially sniped at outspoken foes of communism by saying, "This respectable few—and thank God they are few—have stuck out their heads and opened their mouths in the last few days to the horror of the common people."

Commenting on the statement by Cross, former minister of shipping, the Pictorial said these were "unfriendly words to an ally whose people are now fighting with epic heroism to stem the German flood. He is out of step and 10 miles behind the front line."

On the other hand, the Weekly Review, which incorporates "GK's Weekly," denounced communism in vehement terms and warned that "communists in this country have taken the entrance of Russia into the war on Britain's side as the 'all clear' signal for the furtherance of their anti-national ends."

Communist Revival Rapped.

Their first step, the Review said, has been to hold public meetings to "advocate action to lift the ban on The Daily Worker [communist paper] which was, if we are correctly advised, suppressed for its violent antagonism to the propagation of the war against Germany."

"How are we to know," the editorial continued, "that the editors of The Daily Worker, as a result of their enforced retirement, now are prepared to eat their words and vilify what they so lately praised? The war, by some miracle having ceased to be imperialistic, is now to become

Ickes Orders Oil Firms to Report Sales

Washington, D. C., July 20 [Special].—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, acting as petroleum coördinator, today asked large oil companies operating on the eastern seaboard to give him weekly reports on their retail sales so that he may know to what extent his request yesterday for a voluntary one-third reduction in consumption of petroleum products in the east is being met.

Ickes had threatened compulsory rationing if voluntary reduction of oil consumption in the east was not complied with. The prospective shortage of petroleum is due to the transfer of 50 American tank ships to the British for the overseas service.

More Tanks to Be Transferred.

Tomorrow, Ickes at a conference in his office, will ask tank owners to figure out a plan to transfer 25 more tankers now and 75 later to the British supply service. These, plus the 50 already put in overseas service, will give half the tanker tonnage under the American flag to British transport.

Ickes' demand upon the oil companies for reports on their retail sales was in the form of telegrams signed by Deputy Coördinator Ralph K. Davies.

Net Sales Record Asked.

"For the purpose of measuring what effect requests for voluntary curtailment have on the consumption of gasoline in the so-called east coast refining district," the telegrams said, "will you please report in one total figure for the week ending Friday, July 18, and for each week ended Friday until further notice, your net sales of motor fuel [gasoline] to dealers and thru your own service stations to consumers. . . . What we do want to develop is the nearest measure of the trend of retail purchasing in this area and what effect requests for voluntary curtailment have on the use of gasoline. Obviously, shipments from refineries and terminals to points of consumption will not suffice."

CANADA CURBS BUYING

OTTAWA, July 20 (AP).—Restrictions on gasoline sales go into effect for Canadians tomorrow.

A 1 cent a gallon price increase, affecting also kerosene and distillate, went into effect last Wednesday after Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle appealed for a 50 per cent voluntary curtailment in nonessential use of gasoline to avert ration cards.

The new restrictions follow:

1. Sale, distribution, and delivery of gasoline is prohibited from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. on week days and from 7 p. m., Saturday, to 7 a. m., Monday.

2. Gasoline and oil sales are put on a cash and carry basis—except for United States tourists—with use of credit cards and charge accounts prohibited.

3. Tanks in motor vehicles which do not carry commercial licenses may be filled at retail stations only, barring the supply of gasoline to such vehicles from private gasoline pumps.

SOVIET FLYERS POUND GERMAN ARMORED UNITS

Russians Hold Firm on Moscow Road.

MOSCOW, July 21 [Monday] (AP).—The German invaders of Russia are locked in great battles with the Red army and have been unable to gain in any vital sector, while soviet guerrillas are taking a terrific toll behind the Nazi lines, it was reported today.

All day Sunday, a soviet information bureau communique said, there was stiff fighting in the main sectors of Pskov, Polotsk-Nevel, Smolensk, and Novograd-Volynski — the now familiar zones of defense for Leningrad, Moscow, and Kiev—without any major change.

Despite rainy weather soviet aviation continued to hammer away at the Nazi armored forces and planes. Twenty-five German aircraft were shot down Sunday morning. A German destroyer was sent to the bottom of the Baltic sea by air attack.

War Goes Into Fifth Week.

The communique, carrying the war thru its 29th day and into the fifth week, was issued from a Moscow newly and bewilderingly camouflaged.

By again listing Smolensk among the battle zones the soviet military leadership implied that the Red army center had halted the mechanized Nazi advance units which clattered last week into that area 230 miles west of Moscow in a threat to the capital.

The vaguely defined zones of fighting in the northern and southern reaches of the 2,000 mile front apparently remained approximately 150 miles southwest of Leningrad, and 130 miles west of Kiev, at Novograd-Volynski.

Russians said that at one point a Red infantry division surrounded and annihilated a large Nazi motorized formation, capturing 189 trucks, five tanks, 19 automobiles, four armored cars, two airplanes, six heavy cannon, and several motorcycles, mortars, machine guns, a field radio station and a pontoon bridge depot. One hundred German vehicles were destroyed in this fight.

Break Up Troop Mass.

At another point the Red army fell upon the Germans as they were concentrating trucks and artillery for an offensive. The soviet unit destroyed 300 German trucks and two battalions of artillery and captured 30 trucks in good order along with many horses and much ammunition.

Dispatches from the front published in the official press, without citing specific localities, described a series of defensive actions in which Red army units held their ground against the assaults of numerically superior Germans.

An army dispatch to the newspaper Izvestia reported a brilliant 14 hour defense of a town where the attack of 70 German tanks supported by dive bombers and motorized troops was declared repulsed.

Recapture Another Town.

A Russian infantry division, coöperating with aviation and artillery units, struck at three sides of the town, it reported, forcing the greater number of the Germans to flee in disorder, leaving behind tanks, trucks and motorcycles.

In Moscow, sandbagged now at strategic points, black out at night and altered radically in appearance from both the ground and the air, Premier Josef Stalin took personal charge of the post of defense commissar.

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, who had directed modernization of the soviet army as defense commissar since May 8, 1940, was made Stalin's deputy, in addition to his duties as commander of the central front.

Repair Diplomatic Breaks.

Vice Foreign Affairs Commissar S. A. Lozovsky intimated at a press conference that normal diplomatic relations might be reëstablished between Russia and German occupied and other states with which contacts were broken in recent years. The step would be in behalf of unity "against Hitler and other gangsters."

Diplomatic relations between Russia and the Czecho-Slovak government-in-exile already have been reestablished and Czecho-Slovak military units are to operate under the Red army high command in the fight against Germany.

Who Wants War?

(AN EDITORIAL)

Who wants this war? Certainly not the 80 per cent of the people who vote against it in every poll which gives them an opportunity to express their opinion. Mr. Roosevelt apparently wants it, in spite of the campaign promises he made. The old men of his cabinet want it. Some of them took office to drum it up. Minor Jacks-in-office are playing the ballyhoo of alarm. They want war, social climbers want it, Hollywood and Wall street want it, and bought and bought up newspapers want it. European propagandists want it, British politicians are after it, and continental refugees and New Deal collectivists are for it. But the American people are not.

If this country is taken into the war abroad, with millions of its men conscripted in a foreign cause, it will be by the grossest betrayal and deceit. The nation has been told on the honor of the men it had to trust that its preparations were for its defense and for that alone. The people consented to make sacrifices for this purpose. They were willing to put the nation in a position to resist any possible attack, if a foreign aggressor were foolhardy enough to make one.

Military experts told the people that if they equipped a modern army, with a modern air force added to the world's greatest fleet, they were safe. They believed that then and they believe it now. It was true then and it is true now. Nevertheless, congress is asked to declare a state of emergency, granting to Mr. Roosevelt authority to build up a conscript army for foreign service and to use it as he wishes.

What is the emergency which has arisen within a short time to endanger this continent? The persons who say that the country is in the gravest danger do not explain from which direction it will come or what forces will deal the blow. Where will it hit and who will strike it? The warring nations of Europe, Asia, and Africa are desperately engaged with their present commitments.

Is Hitler headed for the United States via Moscow, the Siberian wastes, and the Arctic? Is Mussolini about to turn his conquering hordes from the scenes of triumph in Africa against Florida and South Carolina? Is Franco of Spain about to go proaxis and loose a thousand ships in another armada to descend upon Mayor La Guardia's New York? Is the badly shaken Japan about to assault Hawaii or even the Philippines?

If a danger that suddenly arises in some already war torn country threatens America with a great crisis, who is the enemy and how will he get here?

Military secrets vital to us would not be disclosed by revealing the enemy's plans against this country. The enemy would wish to conceal them, but why should our high command help him do so? Congress and the people may already suspect that the danger isn't poised over this continent and that the preparations are not against such a peril. The administration is not seeking troops for defense but for foreign service. The alarms, if they have any cause at all behind them, are alarms involving other people, in other lands. The intimations of disaster are given to congress to scare it out of its opposition to intervention in the war abroad. Congress is being asked to indorse the sending of an American expeditionary force for the invasion of Europe.

Court Martial Threat Hurled in Fight to Retain Draftees

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—The controversy over the indefinite extension of the one year army training period burst into flames today.

Maj. Gen. Reckford.

One commanding officer threatened to court martial draftees who addressed protests to senators against their retention in the service after expiration of the year of training provided by law. Another commanding officer said he would overlook such an infraction of regulations forbidding efforts to influence legislation.

Lieut. Col. J. G. Dunford, adjutant of Fort Meade, Md., learning of the telegram sent to Senators Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] and Robert A. Taft [R., O.] from that post, said he would "pursue the thing to the limit" of disciplinary action against the draftees affected. He purposes to act under the army regulation that "except as authorized by the war department, efforts to procure or influence legislation affecting the army . . . are forbidden."

Entire Company Protests.

The text of the protest which the drafted men sent the senators follows in part:

"We, the entire inducted personnel of Company A, 74th Quartermaster Battalion, L. M., Fort George G. Meade, Md., hereby vigorously protest the proposed congressional amendment of the present draft law, which would enable the present administration to lengthen our term of service beyond the present one year limit.

"We do not begrudge the sacrifices we have made for our country heretofore and, furthermore, we will make more sacrifices, even to the supreme sacrifice of our lives, if and when such need arises.

"But, we will only do so when we are convinced that we are in grave danger from aggression and a state of emergency exists whereby it would be to our supreme advantage to advance an expeditionary force.

Charge Breach of Faith.

"We, as one man, believe that the greater part of the present emergency exists in the minds of war mongers in Washington and not in the actual state of affairs.

"We condemn the acts of the administration leaders, believing that these acts are a breach of faith and promises with all the people of the United States as the party wronged."

The senators received a protest of similar tenor from Companies I and L of the 174th Infantry, 44th division of the Federalized National Guard. Maj. Gen. Clifford R. Powell, commander of the division, said he would take no action against the men.

"There is no indication whatever of subversive activities," he said. ". . . It was an honest misunder-

To Record Message

Washington, D. C., July 20 (AP).—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt's message to congress on extension of service of draftees would be sent to the capitol probably tomorrow, and that it was regarded of such paramount interest that Mr. Roosevelt would make a recording of it for broadcast by the radio.

Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, explained that the radio networks could broadcast the recording at any hour of the day or night that best suited their convenience, and the message thus would be heard by the country as if Mr. Roosevelt had delivered it in person.

The President will not deliver it personally to congress. It will be read in both the senate and house by the reading clerks.

NOT OUR WAR! FORMER ENVOY CUDAHY WARNS

Assails Campaign of Fear in U.S.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., July 20.—John Cudahy, who as a United States ambassador spent most of the last eight years in Europe, said tonight that he sees nothing in the European situation that justifies the entrance of the United States into the war. He is convinced, he asserted, that this nation has no business in "Europe's war."

John Cudahy.

Cudahy was appointed ambassador to Poland in 1933. He later served as minister to Ireland, and then as ambassador to Belgium, where he was on duty when the blitzkrieg began last year. During his service, Cudahy traveled from end to end of continental Europe. A prominent Democrat, he served as a diplomat during two terms of the New Deal.

Explains His 1940 Support.

The former ambassador made many speeches for President Roosevelt during the 1940 campaign. After the fall of Belgium Hitler had asked that diplomats be withdrawn and Cudahy had returned to the United States. Along with Joseph Kennedy, then ambassador to Great Britain, he campaigned for the reëlection of Roosevelt in the belief that the President had the experience and the ability to keep this country out of war.

"It was the conviction of the American people that Roosevelt would keep America out of the war that reëlected him to the third term," Cudahy declared. "I believed it then and I still believe he will.

"Every successful candidate down to sheriff and coroner ran on the platform of keeping clear of European wars. Their billboards were at every crossroad. I pledged myself to do everything possible to keep American troops from being sent abroad, and I spoke on the only subject I knew anything about—foreign affairs.

Recalls Willkie Waraing.

"Willkie charged that the President was leading us into war. He said if Roosevelt were reëlected he, Willkie, feared we would be involved. I advocated Roosevelt's election as President as insurance against war. I knew his familiarity with Europe, that he had lived there as a youth and that as assistant secretary of the navy after the last World war he had visited battle scenes and had familiarized himself with the underlying political conditions of Europe.

"I felt he was the man to keep us out of war and the American people had the same fundamental picture. They wanted to keep at peace and they believed he was the man best equipped to keep them at peace."

But now, Cudahy sees the United States being driven into the European war without reason, "by war mongers who are frightened."

"The demand for war is a panic cry," Cudahy declared. "My impression on coming back to the United States after a recent visit to Europe is that the people who are crying for war are frenzied with a fear that has paralyzed their judgment.

Nothing Has Changed.

"It is the war party that is trying to make Roosevelt believe that the situation has changed. Nothing has changed but the louder beating of war drums.

"The war party is in a panic and the brave people do not talk. They didn't in the Low Countries, and they are keeping quiet here."

"Are you going to tell this to the people?" Cudahy was asked.

"It would be a good deal easier to stay on the sideline than to be thrown into the center of an acrimonious and hysteric issue," he answered, "but sometimes it is cowardly to be silent just to avoid issues when you should speak. I intend to express my point of view soon. I am going to make an announcement later."

EXPERTS STRESS SHIPPING JOB OF ANY U. S. INVADER

Agree No Combination of Foes Equal to Task.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—Interventionists who contend that the United States is endangered by a Nazi invasion have failed to consider the fantastic armada which such an invasion would require, in the opinion of military experts.

An enemy attempting to invade this country would be undertaking a campaign beyond the powers of any combination of forces now existing, according to the deliberate opinion of these experts. They see no chance of a successful invasion as long as the United States maintains its navy, an adequate air force, and a small but heavily armed and mobile army of 500,000 men—not the massive and weaponless army now in training.

1,000 Sea Going Ships.

Let the reader imagine, if he can, a tremendous armada of 1,000 or more ocean-going vessels sneaking past the American fleet and landing successfully an expeditionary force of 500,000 or more. Experts agree that no foreign power would be foolish enough to attempt an invasion with less than that number of well armed and mechanized troops.

According to a standard formula among military strategists, at least 7½ tons of shipping is required to transport and supply each member of an expeditionary force. For a minimum force of 500,000, a total of at least 3,750,000 tons in shipping would be required.

An ocean-going vessel must be 2,000 of tons or more. It would require a string of more than 1,100 ships the size of big tankers seen on the Great Lakes, which average 3,300 tons, to carry this theoretical expeditionary force. Incidentally, there are only 16 tankers of this size plying the Great Lakes.

Nazi Fleet Half U. S. Size.

The invading fleet carrying men, equipment and supplies would have to clear the American navy, or at least be convoyed by a naval force of equal size.

The American fleet today totals 337 warships. The German fleet, as long ago as last February, totaled only 181 vessels. The latest official figures, issued six months ago, showed that Germany's ocean-going merchant marine totaled less than 3 million tons. Losses surely have slashed these totals since then.

One prominent expert has stated that the world's tonnage facilities are such that no combination of powers could transport more than 300,000 men a month. It is considered highly unlikely that such a slow movement of an invading force, across 3,000 to 5,000 miles of ocean, would not be detected by American scouting planes and naval patrols from outlying bases long before it would be near shore, where shore batteries and bombers could polish off any part of the armada escaping the fleet.

Experts agree that no land can be conquered by bombing alone, even if there were a foreign air force capable of attacking the United States. It would require ground forces with heavy equipment to land and conquer. These and even the planes would have to be transported by ships.

To carry the troops alone, at least 250 ships with an average capacity of 2,000 men would be required. The heavy arms, mechanized equipment, short range planes, ammunition and supplies of such an army would fill more than 500 of the largest freighters. At least 100 oil tankers with capacities of 5,000 to 12,000 tons would be needed.

Huge Daily Requirements.

The naval escort, in addition to equaling the size of the defending fleet, would require airplane, destroyer, and submarine tenders; repair, store and hospital ships, and other naval auxiliary craft.

The invader would have to bring his food, oil, and staggering quantities of ammunition. Daily requirements would amount to approximately 4,500,000 pounds of rations and supplies, at least 750,000 gallons of gasoline and 75,000 gallons of oil.

According to conservative estimates the following arms would be required by the invading force:

Rifles	180,000
Pistols	150,000
Machine guns	12,000
Anti-tank guns	1,100
Mortars	4,000
105 mm. Howitzers	1,500
155 mm. Howitzers	1,000
240 mm. Howitzers	100
155 mm. guns	400
Tanks	1,000
Scout cars	700
Motor vehicles	100,000
Anti-aircraft guns	1,000
Airplanes	5,000 to 10,000

The force would have to carry at least 15 days' ammunition for each weapon, provided it could maintain its lines of supply for a continuous flow of replacements of provisions, arms, and equipment.

In addition to the original invading force, the enemy would have to provide for more and more troops, weapons, and ships to replace losses.

Sponsors Program

EURICO PENTEADO.

New York, July 20 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is soon to become a sponsored radio news commentator. Eurico Penteado, chairman of the Pan-American Coffee bureau, announced the President's wife would comment on current events over a nation-wide network in a series of weekly 15 minute broadcasts beginning in September. The programs will be sponsored by the bureau, which represents coffee growers in Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, Venezuela, Costa Rica, Cuba, and El Salvador.

CHARGES A DRIVE ON NAZIS AT SEA MEANS REAL WAR

If the United States navy attempts to clear the seas of German submarines and raiders, as advocated by certain members of the Roosevelt administration, an all-out shooting war will result and undoubtedly will require another AEF, speakers on the University of Chicago Round Table radio broadcast agreed yesterday.

Philip La Follette.

But there the agreement ended. Philip La Follette, three times governor of Wisconsin, assailed the proposal, declaring it would call for the slaughter of millions of American boys. Dr. Frederick Schumann, professor of history at Williams college, said military action by the United States is necessary to free the world of axis domination.

La Follette attacked the war mongers for attempting to sacrifice American youth in a quarrel which is not theirs.

Must Prepare Own Defenses.

"Our security can best be served by staying out of the war in Europe," he said. "We must prepare our present weak defenses so we can defeat the totalitarian powers if they come to the western hemisphere."

Naval action against Germany would require the withdrawal of the United States fleet from the Pacific, La Follette said, thus leaving the far east, Australia, New Zealand, and the Dutch East Indies to the Japanese.

But even if the Pacific fleet were withdrawn, La Follette said he had great doubt whether the American navy could even then sweep the seas of Nazi sea power. "We just haven't got the ships," he said. "High navy men all agree to that."

Can't Default, He Says.

Dr. Schumann said American intervention would turn the tide of the war and that the United States must help Britain, China, and Russia by military action or be defeated by the axis powers.

"America cannot default on its commitments," he continued. "We have the facilities and we can do the job now. The fate of the world will be decided in the European war."

REDS CAUGHT IN MANY NEW TRAPS, GERMANS CLAIM

Nazis Push East of River Dniester in South.

BERLIN, July 20 (AP).—The German program of confusing, encircling, harassing, dividing, and destroying the Red army entered its fifth week today with Russians trapped at many places on the great eastern front, the Hitler headquarters reported.

The Germans claimed to have inflicted "heavy, bloody losses" on Russian troops trying desperately to break out of German encirclement.

The communique said that German and Rumanian troops were in "pursuit" of Russian forces after smashing their resistance on the east bank of the Dniester river, on the southern wing of the front, that "additional successes" had been gained on the Finnish front, in the north, and that at the center, in the Smolensk region "operations continue according to plan."

Chessboard of Moves.

Military experts and other German sources added details to the brief official reports. They said that infantrymen and dust covered tanks [the Russians reported general rainfall on the front] were engaged in extremely complicated tactics. The purpose of these chessboard maneuvers across the expansive plains from Leningrad to Kiev was to prevent orderly withdrawal of soviet forces.

The German command was determined to allow as little as possible of the Russian army to "retreat to the Urals"—Europe's natural boundary in Russia—or to safety far behind Moscow where reorganization might be attempted, these sources said.

Playing a conspicuous rôle in the game of confusing Russia was the air force. DNB, the official German news agency said that German pursuit planes, presumably not fully occupied by fighting off the Russian air force, were joining bombers in attacks on Russian ground forces.

Trains Blasted by Bombs.

The agency said that "a large number of trains were blasted from tracks and that rail lines had been broken in many additional places" in another phase of the air force offensive.

Nineteen planes downed; 18 pieces of artillery, 600 trucks and automobiles, 6 bridges, 11 rail lines, 11 entire trains, and 4 additional locomotives destroyed; 1 munition dump and 2 gasoline dumps exploded.

A portion of the air force assigned to the Russian front also scouted the Baltic, it was reported, and sighted Russian naval forces near Dagoe Island, Estonian territory. One destroyer was set afire and two others seriously damaged, it was said.

The reference to actions at sea was one of the few mentions of the Russian navy since the eastern campaign started.

Burn Forests in North.

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—The German radio in a broadcast from Helsingfors, Finland, tonight said "vast territories" had been set afire by retreating Russians in the Lake Ladoga area, and that fires could be seen from the Finnish lines.

The broadcast said the Russians had applied the "scorched earth" policy to all the territory they had to vacate, that the population had been removed entirely, and that Finnish troops were entering empty villages.

Russians Halt Nazis on Four Fronts

The situation yesterday in the war between Germany and Russia, with the Russians claiming to have halted the German drive on four fronts. The Germans made no claims of advances yesterday, stating that "operations continue according to plan." Russians say guerilla warfare behind German lines is taking terrific toll.

BRITISH AND FREE FRENCH FORTIFY CAPTURED SYRIA

Vow It Won't Become 'Another Crete.'

BEIRUT, Lebanon, July 20 (AP).—British and "Free French" forces hastened today to convert conquered Syria and Lebanon into a great near east defensive bulwark lest they become another Crete.

Altho fighting is over, war materials still are pouring in and fortifications are being strengthened to meet any possibility of the Germans following up their Russian drive with a push southward.

Conquering Army Remains.

The army which conquered this French mandate is remaining here to garrison the country and is being increased by recruits from the Vichy French forces. Some of these are Frenchmen who have decided to support the De Gaulle "Free French" movement; others are professional fighters like the Senegalese and Foreign legionnaires.

"Syria will not become another Crete," said a high staff officer. "No step is being left undone to strengthen our position here."

The country is busy adjusting itself to the new régime with the promise of independence after the war. Authority at present is divided three ways.

British Tribunals Set Up.

First there is the British military command, the country being under martial law, with British military tribunals established to deal with any offense against the peace.

Then there is the "Free French" Gen. Georges Catroux, who as high commissioner exercises the same sort of civil authority the former French mandate officials did.

Lastly there are the Syrian and Lebanese governments, which are carrying on with personnel unchanged, altho their powers have been sharply curtailed ever since the war began.

German and Italian nationals still are being rounded up, those regarded as dangerous being sent to the concentration camps which the Vichy French had established.

New Zealand By-Election Is Won by Government

WELLINGTON, N. Z., July 20.—The government supported candidate, Mrs. M. Dreaver, won the Waitemata test by-election today after a campaign marked by apathy of the electors. She polled a plurality far short of the 58 per cent majority by which the government won the seat in 1938. W. D. Darlow, independent, was second, and John Lees, rebel Democratic Laborite, third.

BIG NEW BRITISH TANK ACCLAIMED AS UNBEATABLE

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—A new heavy tank, which is now in mass production in British factories, has been named the Churchill.

A ministry of supply announcement said "the Churchills are probably the most formidable fighting instrument possessed by any army in the world. They are heavily armored, giving maximum protection to the crews, but despite their weight they are able to move over any kind of ground at startling speed.

"Terrific gun power is concentrated in a minimum of space. It is unlikely that many enemy machines exist which could stand up for long to their devastating fire."

MOSCOW RADIO STATION SET UP IN WASHINGTON

Equipped as Two Way Link with Russia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—The Russian government, after consultation with the state department, has constructed a powerful short-wave radio in Washington to make possible direct communication between the government in Moscow and the soviet embassy here.

The apparatus has been set up on the estate of the late Rudulph Kauffmann, which the embassy has leased. The state department monitors messages that pass thru the station.

The apparatus thus far has been used only for receiving purposes, but it is equipped with a rhombic antenna, which, frequently, is an adjunct of a transmission station.

War Cuts Communications.

Communications by normal channels between Washington and Moscow have suffered interruption recently, especially since the outbreak of the German-Russian war. The state department was cut off from the American embassy in Moscow for 48 hours after the war began.

The question of whether the use of the apparatus is to be limited to receiving signals or whether it also will be used for transmission is something the state department and the federal communications commission are unwilling to discuss. Section 310A of the communications act forbids the licensing of a transmitting station controled by a foreign government or its representative, but the problem never has arisen whether a diplomatic mission needs a license. The British embassy has a receiving apparatus of moderate power.

Size Is Factor.

One factor in the considerable size of the soviet apparatus is that it is a diversified receiver, which can catch a signal that an ordinary receiver would not be able to get.

The state department authorized construction of the apparatus so the soviet government would approve similar construction by the American government in Russia if the United States wanted one.

MOSCOW PLACES COMMISSARS ON ALL NAVAL SHIPS

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—The Moscow radio said today that the soviet order last week restoring political commissars to the Red army had been extended to place them also with the Red fleet. Military commissars and political leaders are to be instaled on all ships, in all naval staffs, and in naval training schools.

The radio said also that, because of the war with Germany, the cabinet ministries of internal affairs and state security had been joined in a united commissariat for internal affairs.

CHURCHILL NOTE BIDS WELCOME TO GREEK RULER

King George of Greece.

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—An exchange of messages in which Prime Minister Churchill said a "warmest welcome" is awaiting King George of Greece in England, was taken by some quarters today as an indication that the king shortly may come to Britain to join other allied monarchs in exile.

King George's message said: "My country and I are proudly familiar with the gallant British allies and with God's help are determined to see our cause crowned with success."

Churchill's message said "I have been thinking a great deal about your majesty in these months of stress, danger, and sorrow, and I wish to tell you how much your majesty's bearing amid these vicissitudes has been admired by your many friends in England as well a by the nation at large. A warmest welcome awaits you here where all are resolved to conquer or perish."

The Greek king arrived at Durban in South Africa July 7.

LANDON DEMANDS ROOSEVELT TELL IF WE'RE IN WAR

Charges President with Misleading People.

Topeka, Kas., July 20 [Special].—President Roosevelt's war policy has put the United States "out on a limb" and his present demand that draftees, National Guardsmen and reserves be held in the army beyond the year for which they were called necessitates a clear cut statement by Mr. Roosevelt whether he believes the nation is at war or not Alf M. Landon told the country tonight.

Alf M. Landon.

In a radio address, Landon, the former governor of Kansas who opposed Mr. Roosevelt for the Presidency in 1936, demanded a frank explanation, without weasel words. He reminded his listeners that two British generals have declared the war is this nation's war and have expressed the belief the United States already is in it.

"The President's drive to extend the period of service under the draft act," said Landon, "is just the beginning of a sad revelation—a revelation that major statements of policy by candidates for the Presidency were mere campaign oratory.

Deplores Lack of Confidence.

"Lack of confidence in the word of its chief executive is a real disintegrating force in any nation and in any army. Last year when the President, speaking as a candidate, was telling the American people of the beneficial results of a year's training for boys—and girls, too—in army camps and labor battalions, France and Holland and Belgium and Norway were conquered countries.

"He, the President and the Presidential candidate, must have known then the demands his provocative speeches and acts would place on the draftees. But he has shown himself a master at changing his pace. One day he threw provocative words at the bloody dictators. The next he assured the American people that their boys never would be sent to Europe to fight, but only would be given a nice healthful outing by a year's traing in outdoor exercise.

Tells Repeated Assurances.

"But that was not all of it or the worst of it. Within two months Mr. Roosevelt repeated his assurances that the boys would be sent home at the end of the year, and so would the National Guard.

"The world situation has not changed any since that latest promise to the American people, except for the war between the communists and Nazis. And the average man is getting a cynical laugh out of the flip flops that are being done not only by the American communists but by the war crowd in meeting the shifting lineups characteristic of European wars.

"The communists had to join the administration overnight. But the administration also has taken the communists as partners. The only invasion this country has suffered since the War of 1812 is the organized propaganda invasion by soviet Russia."

Landon said the Roosevelt administration has coddled communists in America to the point where American production can be stopped on order from Berlin or Moscow.

Cites Evidence on Reds.

He then quoted from an article in a current magazine which said agents of the soviet government had offered to insert a clause in a contract with a machine tool manufacturer guaranteeing that while the company was working on Russian orders there would not be any strike.

From this revelation, Landon said, it is evident that the greatest violation of United States rights has been committed by the government we now are asked to help.

"But if the President is to blame for trying to hoodwink the American people," Landon continued, "so are his fellow conspirators, including members of his cabinet. There are those who sold the lease-lend bill to the country under false pretenses.

"This political chicanery, this hoodwinking the American people, is the enemy that is flooding our homes. Because the American people have been denied the truth and treated as weaklings, confidence and trust in leadership is being destroyed at a time when it is most needed.

Finds Citizens are Puzzled.

"No wonder the world as well as his fellow Americans are puzzled at the President's leadership. Friendly New Deal columnists printed the fact that a few months ago the President, for the first time, realized that he couldn't defeat Hitler by speeches. Maybe the President was fooled himself while he was fooling the American people.

"The President has been guilty of using the pretext of national emergency time and again to rush thru congress vague and limitless grants of power. His short cuts to obtain legislation have established the seeds of totalliterianism in this country as nothing written in the legislation has done.

"This time the national emergency is real and the American people will have to take it on the chin. But I do think the amendment to the draft act calls for a frank, clear cut statement, with no weasel words, whether the President believes we are at war or not."

Landon said he gave reluctant support to the proposal to keep draftees and National Guardsmen in the service beyond a year because of circumstances "brought about partly by the President's policies."

Two Missing

Park police opened an investigation last night into the disappearance of two young students, who are believed to have drowned in a boating accident in Burnham park harbor late Friday night. They are Frank Nilles Jr., 19 years old, a student at the Illinois Institute of Technology, and James Wolf Jr., 21, a student at the Aeronautical university, both of 1837 21st place.

Accompanied by Miss Anna Mae Michalik, 19, of 2308 Blue Island avenue, and Miss Evelyn Judnich, 18, of 1848 23d street, Nilles and Wolf went to the 16th street wharf to inspect their homemade boat, Beat It. It was missing. Wolf and Nilles made inquiries of a man said to be a harbor employé.

According to the girls, this man told them their boat had broken from its mooring and was tied up to a tug at the mouth of the harbor. Miss Michalik and Miss Judnich said the man urged Wolf and Nilles to get their boat, and furnished them with a small rowboat without lights, and the oars of which were chained preventing their full sweep. Wolf and Nilles went out in the boat and never returned. On Saturday the rowboat was found overturned at 31st street.

RIDES HIS CROSS DOWNTOWN, AND INTO POLICE CELL

Racine, Wis., July 20 [Special].—Herman Trinke, 44 years old, a Racine fireman for 22 years until his suspension for insubordination on July 10, was in a police cell tonight as the aftermath of a one man parade and crusade.

In the thick of Saturday traffic, and competing with an advertised parade, Trinke appeared atop an improvised float.

Nude except for a loin cloth, and wearing a crown of thorns, he was affixed to a large wooden cross atop an automobile. Huge signs announced: "Nailed to the cross and crucified by Fire Chief Hartnett and his copartners, the commissioners," and "Sacrificed on the altar of hate, greed and jealousy."

AIR LINES OFFICE AND LOOP MOVIE THEATER ROBBED

An air lines office and a motion picture theater in the loop were held up last night, supposedly by the same man.

The gunman first entered the office of the United Air lines at 23 East Monroe street, where he took $65 from W. A. Looney, 1419 Arthur avenue, the night manager, and Ralph Caffarello, 1620 North Central avenue, a chauffeur.

Five minutes later a man answering his description robbed Mrs. Peggy Ryan, 822 South Oakley boulevard, cashier at the Clark theater, 11 North Clark street, of $35.

RED RADIO CALLS UPON SERBS AND CROATS TO HARASS NAZI INVADERS

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—The Moscow radio was heard tonight appealing to Serbs in the Serbian language to stand up against "the German intruders . . . do any damage you can . . . derail trains . . . blow up bridges . . . destroy factories."

"You railway men," said the announcer, "drive slowly. You miners, do not put out too much. Cut telephone communications and do not allow the Germans to use all your handiwork and labor."

To Croats, another of the peoples which made up Jugo-Slavia and now in a separate state under an Italian prince, the announcer declared: "Fascist Italy has robbed you of the best part of your territories and has given you in barter a king. Rise up and overthrow this alien power."

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.
CHICAGO-DETROIT-RHODE ISLAND
D. E. HENDERSON, PRESIDENT

CAN YOU make good use of $100? Investigate our loan plans today. Household Finance offers three simple ways for you to borrow up to $300. Your loan will be made the way which best suits your own situation.

1. Signature loans. No security needed. These loans are made, under proper conditions, to both single persons and married couples.

2. Auto loans. A loan on your car may best fit your needs.

3. Furniture loans. Here character and regular income are far more important than the value of your security. Many borrowers use this plan.

No endorsers needed

Whichever way you borrow, it is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get the loan you need simply, privately and speedily.

You may repay your loan in convenient monthly installments as shown in the table. Monthly installments of $9.77 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. It's good business to compare rates before you borrow.

If you need money, here's what to do. Come to Household. Or just phone and say you need a loan. We're here to serve you. Phone or visit us today without obligation.

From 1919 through today, The Times has led* all other New York papers in advertising volume!

★ Because it reaches the right audience in both quality (purchasing power) and numbers (over 750,000 on Sundays, almost 500,000 on week-days).

★ Because it has won the trust and loyalty of its readers —and advertisers benefit thereby.

a crusade for communism? Let's beware of being jockeyed into a trap. We are not allied with the miserable form of slavery parading under the name of communism, but with the Russian people who, should they succeed in turning out the invading Hun, certainly will no longer tolerate Dictator Stalin."

List Other Appointees.

Other appointments announced by the prime minister were:

Ernest Thurtle, 50, who was born in Port Jervis, N. Y., parliamentary secretary for the ministry of information.

Richard Kidston Law, 40, parliamentary undersecretary of state for the foreign office. Law, a son of Bonar Law, formerly worked as a newspaperman in the United States.

Herwald Ramsbotham, president of the board of education, to be chairman of the unemployment assistance board, to succeeed Lord Rushcliffe, retired. Ramsbotham was named a baron.

Sir Hugh Seely, 42, who formerly commanded a bomber squadron, as an additional parliamentary undersecretary of state at the air ministry.

Production Minister Not Picked.

No minister of production has been appointed but it is believed Churchill is considering such a move and that the new minister will be invested with greater powers to speed up and increase the efficiency of the industrial war effort than have been held by any minister. The choice for this job, it is reported, would rest between Minister of State Lord Beaverbrook and Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin.

The Daily Mail, under the heading, "The Same Pack," said:

"The first reaction to the government changes will be one of profound disappointment. The people were hoping that the new appointments would reflect their own anxiety about conditions on the home front and their desire for a reorganization. They have proved just a reshuffle of the too familiar kind."

Gov. Green's vetoing of the handbook license bill was hailed yesterday by State's Attorney Courtney as a powerful force in the community's fight against racketeering and gangsterism. The bill would have permitted handbooks to operate legally in the state. Courtney had urged Gov. Green to veto the bill.

"There is no doubt that hoodlums, leftovers from the prohibition era, would force themselves into this lucrative field to build up their racketeering organizations," the prosecutor said. "With the veto of this bill, the authorities will be able to keep them on the run."

Early today the police released the last of the 350 patrons seized in the handbook raid at 3146 North Ashland avenue on Saturday afternoon. The police worked for about 36 hours to fingerprint and learn the records, if any, of those arrested. Seven had minor records.

Ten Jap Ships, Kept from Canal, to Go Around Horn

New York, July 20 [Special]. — Ten or more Japanese ships in Atlantic coast waters will return to Japan around Capo Horn, rather than continue efforts to obtain permission to use the Panama canal, Japanese shipping officcs here said today. Several of the ships have been refused passage on the grounds that the canal is undergoing repairs, but American vessels are passed. Canal authorities, it is declared, do not want the Japanese to see the work that is being done.

Baby Fatally Strangled by a Sleeping Garment

David L. Eyles, 13 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Eyles, 1753 Berteau avenue, was strangled in his sleeping garment yesterday in the home of Mrs. Edgar G. Ball, 941 Ridgewood drive, Highland Park. The Eyles family was visiting there at the time.

Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] warned last night that the rearmament program might lead to government control of private enterprise and the curtailment of small industries. He repeated his pledge to oppose this country's entry into war.

Senator Brooks spoke at the 33d annual outing of the Swedish Societies' Old People's Home association on the grounds of the Swedish Old People's home, Pioneer road and Grant street, Evanston. Several thousand persons attended. Carl R. Chindblom, a former congressman and chairman of the association board, introduced Senator Brooks.

"A Free People."

"As a free people," the senator said, "we must keep in mind the prevention of anything which may limit our liberty. I have been wondering during the last few months if national defense will not result in the government controling private enterprise. And I believe that from this day on you can be sure that industry will be curtailed and little factories handicapped.

"It is the will of the vast majority to aid all people fighting for liberty against aggression. But it is not the will that we shall become a shooting participant in this present conflict. It shall be my purpose to continue to use all my efforts to build a great national defense and to assist materially those fighting for liberty. But I will use all of my efforts to oppose any steps leading to war.

Won't Vote for War.

"Whatever I do, and I will vote for aid to England, I will not vote to send our sons to do their fighting on their soil. I hate Hitler, not for the man he is, but for what he stands for, and I hate Stalin just as much as I hate Hitler. I will give everything I've got to keep us out of war. But if we go in I'll give all we have to make our entry a success."

Senator Brooks returned to Washington, D. C., early today in a United Air lines plane. Earlier yesterday he spoke at a picnic crowd near Dalzell in Bureau county.

BRITISH REVEAL SPIES MADE CONTACTS THRU NAZI CONSULS IN U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 20.—German espionage organizations have been operating against Great Britain for months thru German consuls in the United States, it is now revealed here.

This had been suspected for some time, and it was an open secret that the British and American intelligence services were investigating. Confirmation seems to be provided by the trial, conviction and execution of George Johnson Armstrong, a British citizen under the treachery act. Armstrong was hanged in Wandsworth jail July 9.

Armstrong was an engineer, 39 years of age, and for short periods in 1939 and 1940 he served at sea. He met Nazi agents during his travels, and offered his services to Germany a few months ago thru one of the German consuls in the United States. On his return to England he was arrested.

Armstrong was the fifth person to be sentenced to death. Four have been executed and one, a woman, won a reprieve.

COURT MARTIAL THREAT HURLED IN DRAFT FIGHT

Soldiers Protesting Term Extension Face Action.

standing on the part of the men, who felt that as National Guardsmen they were still citizens of the United States, with the right to petition their civil representatives."

The Fort Meade company is composed of men from all parts of the country, while the two companies of the 174th Infantry hail from New York state.

Assail Army Propaganda.

To the threat of disciplinary measures against private soldiers senators hurled at the war department charges that generals were being used as propagandists to promote legislation to keep the draftees in the service indefinitely.

This accusation was prompted by the procession of generals appearing before the senate military affairs committee in the last few days to support President Roosevelt's recommendation to remove the one year limitation on the service of draftees, National Guardsmen, and reservists.

"The threat to punish selectees for exercising the right of petition is outrageous and doubtless will receive the attention of congress if it should be carried out," said Senator John Thomas [R., Idaho], a member of the senate military affairs committee. "The soldiers should be accorded the right to express themselves. They have the same right to express their views on this subject as commanding officers have. For several days we have been witnessing the use of generals by the war department for propaganda purposes."

Lobbyist Among Witnesses.

Among the generals sent before the committee were three division commanders, including Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckford, who for nearly 20 years was chief lobbyist on capitol hill for the National Guard association and is extremely influential among the national legislators.

Culminating the drive for the legislation will be the President's special message, probably tomorrow, which is expected to be a hair raiser in portraying the peril of the country from Nazi invasion and the consequent need of keeping the draftees, National Guardsmen, and reservists in service indefinitely.

Congress Declarations Sought.

Under the law, the President is authorized to extend the service period if congress declares that the national interest is imperiled. The administration wants congress to take this action in the form of a declaration of unlimited emergency such as the President has proclaimed.

Such a declaration, however, would put the country on a war footing and make the President virtually a dictator. Such is the popular opposition to the President's war policies that congress is not likely to go that far. The action now contemplated is a resolution declaring the national interest imperiled but circumscribing Presidential power thereunder to extension of the service period. This power would be limited to two years.

SOLDIERS DROP NOTES OPPOSING EXTENDED TERM

Fredericksburg, Va., July 20 [Special].—Soldiers of the 44th division from Fort Dix, N. J., have made their second public complaint in less than a week on continuation of their federal service, it became known today. The troops are in Virginia for maneuvers.

The new objection consisted of more than 20 penciled notes dropped from trucks in the division's convoy as it passed thru here yesterday to the A. P. Hill military reservation, 10 miles to the south. The notes, which had the words "44th division" penciled on them, said: "One year's enough. Send this to your newspaper. Who the hell is Maj. Gen. Williams to say the National Guard wouldn't mind staying another year? No one I know was asked. Why not take a vote among the National Guard?"

The reference to Williams concerned a recent statement by Brig. Gen. John F. Williams, chief of the National Guard bureau in Washington, D. C., that "The National Guard is ready and willing to stay in federal service."

BRITISH FLYERS ADD TANKER TO BIG 8 DAY TOLL

249,000 Tons of Ships 'Sunk or Damaged.'

LONDON, July 20 (AP).—British bombers swooping to mast height scored two direct hits on a 7,000 ton Nazi tanker today, the British reported, bringing to 249,000 tons the German vessels sunk or damaged in the last eight days of the royal air force's protracted western air offensive.

Before today's attack, the British claimed 242,000 tons of Nazi shipping had been sunk or damaged in the last week, marked by two attacks yesterday on German convoys in which eight ships aggregating 48,000 tons were sunk or damaged.

Vessel Reported Beached.

The air ministry's news service said reconnaissance planes reported the tanker was beached on the French channel coast, down at the stern.

The RAF made three daylight sweeps into northern France after a night attack on Hannover, in western Germany, but the air ministry said the weather did not favor large scale operations.

Fires visible for miles were said to have been started in the industrial areas of Hannover.

422 Planes Downed, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, July 20 (AP).—DNB, the official news agency, acknowledged today that the British had increased their air attacks on the western front, since Germany started the Russian campaign, "to simulate relief" for the Russians, but that German defenses had held down the effectiveness of the RAF.

The agency said the British had lost 422 fighting and bombing planes during daylight raids on the channel coast region since June 18, with 116 lost in the last 10 days. The war with Russia began on June 22.

The high command said its planes bombed military facilities in middle and east England after British cross-channel attacks of yesterday in which 10 RAF planes were destroyed. It added that British raiders failed to damage defense industries or military establishments in attacks last night.

Dignitaries Attend

The Rev. Casimir Sztuczko, C.S.C., pastor of Holy Trinity Catholic church, 1120 Noble street yesterday celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood at a solemn high mass in his church. Appointed to the position as pastor of Holy Trinity church at the suggestion of the late Cardinal Satolli, papal nuncio at Washington, Father Sztuczko brought about a settlement of differences between officers of the diocese and the parishioners of Holy Trinity who refused to accept the priests previously appointed to the church. Father Sztuczko has been pastor of that parish for 48 years.

2 BRITISH U-BOATS AND DESTROYER SUNK, SAYS ROME

ROME, July 20 (AP).—Italian submarines and destroyers in a series of actions in the Mediterranean sank two British submarines and a destroyer, the Italian war bulletin said today, while torpedo planes hit a 10,000 ton British cruiser.

One Italian submarine has failed to return from the Atlantic, the communique said.

The British destroyer was finished by a torpedo from an Italian submarine, the communique said, while another Italian submarine accounted for one of the British submarines.

Destroyers Bag Submarine.

Stefani, official news agency, said the other British submarine was sunk by Italian destroyers which dropped depth bombs in the Ionian sea. The British ship had fired two torpedoes at one of the destroyers but missed, the news agency said.

The cruiser was attacked off Matruh, British railhead in Egypt, the communique said.

Axis planes again attacked barracks and sandbagged fortifications around Tobruk, Libya, where artillery fire was unchanged.

Italians Reinforce 3 Isles.

ANKARA, Turkey, July 19 [Delayed] (AP).—British sources said today that heavy reinforcements had been landed for Italian garrisons of Samos, Chios, and Mytilene, Greek islands commanding Turkish coastal shipping routes and the Aegean approach to the Dardanelles.

Italians replaced German troops in the occupation of these islands before the start of the Russian-German war. Originally they were only small units. British submarine activity in the Aegean and the axis fear of possible British fleet action were said to have caused the sending of reinforcements.

NEEDS THOMAS' HELP

YOUR hair-growing structure is delicate and reacts unfavorably to over exposure of hot rays of the mid-day summer sun. Such exposure may increase your hair-fall, aggravate dandruff, and hasten your scalp along the road to baldness.

Call at a Thomas office today for free advice on the care of your hair during the summer months. A Thomas expert will gladly tell you how to enjoy summer sports without injury to your hair. He will tell you when and how to expose your hair to the sun; when to wear a hat; what to do about excessive perspiration on the scalp—about salt-water bathing and shower baths. He will also explain exactly how Thomas effectively ends dandruff, stops falling hair and re-grows hair on the thin and bald spots. No charge is made for consultation nor for scalp examination. PERSONAL LOANS

BE AS cost-wise when you borrow as when you spend. Shop for money as you would anything else. Compare what you get for what you pay.

Make this simple "figuring" test when you think of borrowing money: (1) Check rates everywhere; (2) multiply the amount of the monthly payment by the number of payments you have to make; (3) the Difference between the amount of money you get and the amount you have to pay back is the Cost of your loan.

Example: $100 repayable in 12 months
12 monthly payments @ $9.77—$117.24
Less—Amount of loan..... 100.00
Loan Cost Elsewhere.....$ 17.24

Save More Than Half Here!

That same loan at Merchandise Bank would cost only $8 on your signature alone. As little as $5.50* if you wish to provide a co-maker.

So you see it really pays to make your loan at Merchandise Bank. You save, in the above example, from $9.24 (more than half the usual cost) to as much as $11.74. The saving is more than enough to make one month's payment!

Up to 18 Months to Pay

Merchandise Bank has many loan plans—one to meet every personal borrowing situation. The small, easy payments include all costs and can be made conveniently by mail. Study (and compare) this table of low monthly payments.

AMOUNT OF NOTE	EASY MONTHLY PAYMENTS 18 months	12 months
$100	$ 5.55	$ 8.33
200	11.11	16.66
300	16.66	25.00
500	27.77	41.66
750	41.66	62.50

Amounts Up to $2,500

When to Borrow

We believe that no one should go into debt without good cause. But there are times when it is good business to borrow. To reduce monthly payments—and costs—on a present loan elsewhere, for example.

Or to group numerous pressing debts into one obligation with only one monthly payment to make. To pay taxes, school expenses.

Or to buy furniture or home improvements at cash prices. And of course in case of emergencies, such as illness.

When such situations arise, thousands of people have found it beneficial and profitable to borrow at Merchandise Bank.

Easy to Make a Loan Here

You don't have to bank with us. You don't even need to have a bank account anywhere. If you are regularly employed and meet our easy requirements, it's simple as ABC. And quick, too.

JOHN WARNER TALKS ABOUT BALDNESS

In a talk over the radio, John E. Warner, the nation's leading scalp specialist said: "Take care of your hair while you have it, for baldness is a permanent condition. Nearly every day I am asked to grow hair for someone who has waited too long—and, of course, I have to tell such individuals that I can't help them. To the man who is losing his hair I can, in such cases as I accept, be sure of saving and improving the hair through progressive steps of medication and treatment."

Statistics show that as much as 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if caught in time. If your hair and scalp show the symptoms of approaching baldness, such as dandruff, itchy scalp and excessive falling hair—you should consult John E. Warner Associates without delay.

There is no charge or obligation for a scalp examination and consultation. Examination and treatment are given in strictest privacy. Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance. The new Chicago office of the John E. Warner Associates is located at 36 S. State, North American Bldg., N. W. corner of State and Monroe, Suite 1320-24. Phone Central 1451, hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily, Saturdays to 6 P. M.

There is a separate department for women. Other Warner offices located in Boston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Detroit.

REYNOLDS FEARS CURB ON PRESS IN SEIZURE BILL

Committee Head Balks at Arms Measure.

Washington, D. C., July 20 (AP).—Chairman Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] has declined to join other members of the senate military affairs committee in recommending speedy passage of preparedness property seizure legislation, a revised version of a bill which Reynolds himself had introduced at the request of the war department.

Reynolds told reporters of his decision today and said he feared the powers which would be granted the President under the measure might be so broad as to permit seizure of newspaper and radio stations if they were deemed necessary to further the preparedness program.

The committee vote to report the bill was announced as unanimous. Committee members not infrequently vote to report legislation which they are not prepared to support, however. The senate is scheduled to take up the measure tomorrow.

Chandler to Direct Bill.

Reynolds ordinarily would be in charge during senate debate of legislation handled by his committee, but he said he would turn over to Senator Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.] the task of directing the fight for the bill. Chandler drew up the committee's report, which contended there was pressing need for governmental power to seize materials, equipment, and machines for preparedness.

The measure would authorize the President, when other means of obtaining the property have been exhausted and there was an immediate need for it, to requisition:

"Any military or naval equipment, supplies, or munitions, or components thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials necessary for the manufacture, servicing, or operation of such equipment, supplies, or munitions."

"Fair and just compensation" would be paid the owner.

Fears Limit Is Insufficient.

The committee report said the requisitioning authority was "sufficiently limited so that it does not include property having no connection with military or naval defense."

Reynolds said, however, that it seemed to him the question of seizure of newspapers or radio stations "would depend entirely upon the interpretation put on the law."

Publication of testimony taken by the committee before it approved a compromise version of the bill disclosed that administration senators had opposed an attempt by Senator Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.] to write into the measure a specific prohibition against seizure of newspapers or radio stations.

Opposes Curb on Power.

Chandler expressed opposition to any such limitation, saying he was willing that the government have authority to seize "anything in the country that is necessary for national defense."

"Including newspapers and radios?" Downey asked.

"Anything in the world, for that matter, that is necessary for national defense," Chandler replied.

OLD ALUMINUM DRIVE TO START IN CHICAGO TODAY

The drive for old aluminum in Chicago will open at 9 o'clock this morning in coöperation with the national campaign to collect the metal for the national rearmament program. Factory whistles will signalize the start of the drive. About 40,000 volunteer workers will then set out upon a house to house canvass.

Police stations will be used as main depositories, and citizens are urged to take old pots, pans, and other aluminum ware to their district station.

Bolivia Seizes Ex-Minister as Chief of Nazi Revolt Plot

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 20 (AP).—Former Finance Minister Victor Paz Estenssoro was arrested today at Tarija, in the heart of the Bolivian oil fields. Police said he was there "in connection with a Nazi putsch" which has thrown this country into a state of siege and resulted in an expulsion order against the German minister.

A member of the chamber of deputies, Estenssoro was described by officials as head of the "nationalist revolutionary movement," automatically ordered dissolved by proclamation of the state of siege last night. Estenssoro resigned from the cabinet on June 20 in a disagreement over the exchange rate of the peso and the dollar.

In the chamber of deputies he has been fighting President Enrique Penaranda's efforts to settle an old dispute with the Standard Oil company.

Four newspapers, two of which had been mentioned in the United States blacklist of axis firms, were suspended and several persons were arrested as swift government action was declared to have thwarted the revolutionary plot.

Envoy May Leave in Week.

Ernst Wendler, German minister, was ordered to leave Bolivia and was expected to depart within a week, altho a government official said no deadline had been fixed.

President Enrique Penaranda said the government had documentary proof that Wendler had attempted to interfere in Bolivia's internal affairs.

A German legation spokesman declared in a statement Wendler was asking the government to show him the documents charging his alleged participation in the plot. The spokesman added the minister was awaiting instructions from his government regarding his withdrawal.

Long conflict between Nazi and anti-Nazi influences in La Paz had extended recently to outlying Bolivian cities such as Cochabamba and Oruro, where both German and British business interests were strong.

Berlin Called Plot Boss.

Police said Cochabamba, central Bolivian farm center, was the center of the movement, rather than La Paz, and this was borne out by announcement that Defense Minister Candia had gone to Cochabamba to "stifle the movement."

Guillermo Gutierrez Vea-Urguia, editor of the newspaper Larazon, which has campaigned for 18 months against what it called "the infiltration of dangerous foreign influences in our midst," asserted that the plot to overthrow the Bolivian government was directed from Berlin.

The anti-Nazi campaign in La Paz has been headed by Carlos Victor Aramayo, wealthy tin operator, publisher, and former diplomat, who was educated in England. He owns the newspaper La Razon.

Carlos Victor Aramayo (left), leader of anti-Nazi campaign in Bolivia, and President Penaranda, army trained chief of the country, who directed Bolivian governmental activities which informed sources said thwarted a Nazi putsch plot in that country.

Save Our Republic

FARMERS IN REVOLT.

Americans eat about 625 million bushels of wheat a year. When the present crop has been harvested and added to the carryover of other years, the total supply will be about 1 billion 250 million bushels. If all the wheat farmers were to take a sabbatical year's leave there would still be enough bread to go around until the middle of 1943.

Our great surplus of wheat arises from several causes. Probably most important was the practice of the Roosevelt administration in previous years to make nonrecourse loans for more than the market price. But for the inducements to store grain it would have been profitable to feed wheat to stock. Each year's crop would have been eaten up by man or beast by the time a new crop was harvested.

The excessive amount of wheat is also attributable to the fact that none is being exported. The British blockade has cut off the ordinary outlet for our surplus grain in Europe. While wheat is so plentiful here that all storage space in the central markets is now in use, the people in the occupied countries in Europe are starving. Herbert Hoover was unable to get American government support for his plan to relieve agriculture here and starvation in Europe, by shipping wheat for use of civilians in Belgium and Holland, under American supervision, and to be paid for with funds on deposit in the United States.

A large crop totaling 924 million bushels is also a factor. The present year's crop is larger than that of either of the last two years, but smaller than the 1938 harvest. In three other years the production was larger.

We have two years' supply of wheat then, partly as a result of past unsound agricultural measures of the government, partly as a result of the war and our international policy, and partly as a result of a large crop. If the large quantities of wheat came upon the market without restriction the price would certainly be lower than at present, altho clearing the market of all supplies would pave the way for better returns in succeeding years.

In early spring of this year wheat sold in the 70s. In May congress passed a law which authorized farmers to decide by 2/3 vote whether they wanted to sell all the grain they should reap this year free for what it would bring, or to receive a loan of 98 cents a bushel for only that wheat which they produced on their allotted acreage. The second alternative further provided that farmers who raised more than their allotment should be taxed 49 cents a bushel on the excess. By a vote of about four to one the wheat farmers voted for the loan scheme.

Wheat is selling for at least 25 cents a bushel more than it would sell for if the vote had been against marketing quotas. The higher price is available to those who voted no as well as to those who voted yes. A great hullabaloo has been raised in many sections of the country about the 49 cent tax on excess wheat. Those who exceeded their allotment are complaining bitterly. They exceeded their quota in the belief that they were going to be fined only 15 cents a bushel. Some are finding that they would be better off getting 75 cents a bushel on their whole crop instead of 98 cents for some of it and 49 cents net for the rest. The government has been accused of bad faith for raising the ante on quota breakers while the grain was growing. It is said to be ex post facto. Leaders are urging farmers to defy the government in Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, and elsewhere.

The situation is a mess. Many farmers say they voted for the deal without having anything said to them about the penalty provisions. They call it a gyp. The increase in the loans from 72 cents a bushel last year to 98 cents was thought to be a clever move of the President to gain support for his war provoking measures in a section of the country where they were regarded with hostility. The 1941 farm bill resulted in raising the cost of living for every one, without bringing benefits on balance to many of the farmers. The earlier Roosevelt farm schemes were bad economics. The latest version is both bad economics and bad politics. Because of the latter something will probably be done.

MORE BALLYHOO.

The President has asked congress to empower him at his discretion to establish daylight saving time in any part of the country and for any period of the year. A number of bills have been introduced in congress for national daylight time, but the President disapproves of this approach. He does not favor a systematic changing of the clocks by general law. Congress, he implies, can't be trusted and neither can there be any reliance upon the patriotism and good sense of state and local legislative bodies.

This newspaper believes in extending daylight saving into the spring and fall chiefly because changing the clock will add to the sum of human happiness by giving people more daylight time for their private enjoyment. Another reason for favoring the extension is that it will get people home from work in the spring and fall before the deadly twilight hours when automobiles take their heaviest toll. We have not been much concerned about moving the clock forward during the months just before and after the winter solstice on Dec. 21, because, in the latitudes of the United States, most of us will go home from work in the dark during that part of the year even if the change is made.

A third reason for the change—and it is the only one which has impressed Mr. Roosevelt—is the saving of electricity which might be effected. This saving, while real enough especially in the spring and fall, won't amount to a great deal when the days are shortest and in any event its importance can be exaggerated. A note the other day in the Wall Street Journal said that 740 million kilowatt hours might be conserved each year if all the clocks were moved ahead, quite a tidy sum of kilowatt hours, but still, as the Journal explained, just about two-tenths of 1 per cent of the nation's annual output of power or about enough to run the 2½ million electric refrigerators which were bought in the first six months of this year.

It looks very much as if Mr. Roosevelt were engaging in some more of his war ballyhoo. His theory appears to be that to discommode the people for no good reason in the months from November to March will make the people war-minded. If the matter were left to congress, the probability is that this inconvenience would be avoided as an unnecessary and largely useless irritation. The propagandists for war do not regard such irritations as useless. They serve to promote the notion that the peril of the country is great and that the times are dire and call for sacrifice. Mr. Roosevelt can use daylight saving in winter to promote the war psychosis; if the matter is left to him that's what is to be expected.

A SIEGE GUN FOR USE AGAINST CROWS.

One of Mr. Roosevelt's executive assistants, Mr. Wayne Coy, walked over to Capitol hill on Wednesday to deliver a copy of Mr. Roosevelt's new property seizure bill. The draft was handed to Senator Chandler of Kentucky, who promptly introduced it as a substitute for the bill at present under consideration, but the committee has already rejected it.

The new bill is the third in a series. The first White House draft, sent to congress some weeks ago, placed almost no restrictions on the President's power to take over property of any kind. It quickly became apparent that congress would not enact the bill in that form. A so-called compromise was then worked out, which was accepted on behalf of the administration by the undersecretary of war, Mr. Robert Patterson. In this form the bill was approved on Thursday by the military affairs committee of the senate. The compromise grants the President as a last resort the right to take over factories, machines, raw materials, processes, etc., which are needed for the production of goods for the army and navy when these goods cannot be obtained otherwise.

This is a better bill than either of those which came from the White House, but even this measure should be examined with the greatest care to make sure that it contains no jokers and grants no powers in excess of those which the facts may warrant.

An influential group of New Dealers, close to the President, has long favored the nationalizing of all the means of production in this country. This group is for war because war is expected to promote the bolshevizing of the nation's economy. The latest White House bill would give the administration all the authority it required to effect the revolution; even the compromise will go far in the same direction.

The most striking circumstance about all these proposals for property seizure is the absence of evidence tending to show that the government has been hampered in its armament program by recalcitrant owners of property. Members of congress, like their constituents, must be wondering what all the shooting is about. Who among property owners is withholding coöperation? Who is refusing to place his facilities at the government's service? A great deal is known about strikes which have crippled production, but obviously none of these property seizure measures is aimed at preventing strikes. It is difficult to believe that this administration, with its long record of denunciation of business enterprises, is now unwilling to make public any facts damaging to business which it may possess.

If the administration can show that here or there some factory owner has been unwilling to do his part in the armament effort, perhaps some legislative remedy may be justified, but there can be no justification for giving the President a siege gun to knock off a few crows.

If the President gets his siege gun it may or may not terrorize the crows, but it will certainly terrorize industry generally. It will add to the sense of insecurity and by doing so will cripple production even if the granted powers are not used or are used only sparingly. If the authority is used to seize factories promiscuously in pursuit of a revolutionary program, a decline in the output of munitions and everything else can be predicted with great confidence. If the army, without training or experience in factory management, undertakes to run industries the job will be botched.

VOYAGE TO PARADISE.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

It will be "all aboard for Utopia" when 400 to 500 axis consuls and their families and assistants board the naval transport West Point tomorrow and sail down New York harbor past the Statue of Liberty they despise and across the Atlantic to the paradise of the "New Order." All of them, no doubt, are overjoyed at the prospect of escaping from this degenerate pluto-democracy.

The new life awaiting these people who have abused American hospitality is indeed enviable. A quick survey reveals some of the many blessings they will enjoy which were denied them in this old-fashioned land of the free.

No longer will waiters in restaurants pester them to have a second cup of coffee. In fact, no waiter will bother them with the first cup.

They will not have to puzzle their brains whether to select veal cutlets, one inch thick beefsteak, or pork chops; the horse meat and the sausage made from fish will be served to them without previous debate.

They will be free from annoying traffic jams which are such a nuisance in this country. They will never suffer from carburetor trouble or flat tires.

No longer will they have to spend quiet, deadly dull, monotonous week-ends in the country. The RAF will make such jaunts really exciting.

They can forget the cares of the world. No longer will the disconcerting journalistic practice of printing all the news plague their regimented brains. Now they can rely wholly on the one track diet served by Doktor Goebbels and Gabby Gayda.

Ah, what a life! To be even an underfed cog in a great imperial machine that some day is going to rule the world must fill one with pride—since that is the only substance left to fill up on. How stupid of Englishmen and their allies and the gregarious Americans to want outmoded freedom under which they have to do their own thinking! Three cheers for the "New Order"—or maybe we'd better not cheer; Adolf and Benito might think the revolution has come.

How times change! Munitions makers once encouraged war for the sake of profits; now we threaten to take the plants of those who won't make munitions. —Akron Beacon Journal.

THE STURDY HOUSE OF HAMLIN.

By a curious turn of the wheel of destiny the Grand Opera house has reverted into the hands—the dead hands—of the family that built the first structure on the site after the Chicago fire. In other words, it has returned into the possession of the Hamlin estate.

The founder of this estate was John A. Hamlin, whose interest in amusement enterprises started with "medicine shows" vending Wizard Oil. [We cannot say offhand what ailments Wizard Oil cured, but no doubt it was alleged to cure almost everything]. John and his brother, L. B., bought the property in January, 1872, and ran up a small, shallow office building. In 1873, on the rear of the plot, they erected premises which were known as Foley's billiard hall ["the largest in the world," 30 tables]. In 1874 the billiard hall was altered and enlarged for use as an amusement "garden," with fountains, waterfalls, musical entertainment, and refreshments.

This establishment soon became a variety hall, and in 1878 it was reconstructed into a standard theater, called Hamlin's. After further alterations it became the Grand Opera house in 1880, under the management of John A. Hamlin. Its modernization by George M. Cohan occurred in 1926 [A. N. Rebori, architect], and later its management passed to the Shuberts.

The sons and heirs of John A. Hamlin were Fred, Harry, and George. In the early years of this century Fred displayed brilliant talent as an impresario by producing the unforgettable "Babes in Toyland" and "The Wizard of Oz." Then he went to New York, and his level-headed, business-man brother Harry sat in an office in the Grand for years, overseeing the property but letting lessees take the risks of theatrical enterprise. George, the youngest brother, became an operatic tenor and often sang with the Chicago opera companies.

The three Hamlin heirs are dead. We are vague about their issue and the present beneficiaries of the Hamlin estate. We seem to remember, however, that Fred's widow, now deceased, married H. B. Warner, then a dramatic star, now active in the movies.

THE WELLS OF LIFE.

Summer her cap and gown is wearing,
With brown-eyed Susan idly faring;
She drinks from Aunt Sally's spring-fed well
And lingers to gossip and rest a spell.
The wells of learning had not this sweet taste;
They were stale and tainted with surface waste.
O, wells of learning, now tell us, please,
Where are the hives of the golden bees?
Who painted the grass snake's emerald coil,
And where may one find the lucky trefoil?
The dragonfly's coat of gauze and fire,
Who wrought it to His keen desire?
Who made Leviathan, made the fly,
With equal craftsmanship, tell us why?
Why is the pawpaw's flesh ruddy gold?
What delicate weight will a cobweb hold?
Some wells are spring-fed and some
Run dry and brackish 'til the rains come.

Pictures on the Cottage Wall.

Among portraits of children, Gainsborough's "The Blue Boy" [painted in 1770] and Lawrence's "Pinkie" [painted in 1795] rank high in fame and popularity. Prints of them are common in American homes. The originals are in the Huntington Art museum, San Marino, Cal., a suburb of Los Angeles.

It is generally supposed that these children were of royal or noble blood. Not at all. The Blue Boy was Jonathan Buttall, the son of an ironmonger. Pinkie was Sarah Moulton Barrett, whose brother Edward became the father of Elizabeth Barrett Browning and was characterized as a green-eyed monster in the modern play called "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

Baseball on a Tombstone.

There is a gravestone in the actual form of a baseball in Graceland cemetery. It is of granite, about 16 inches in diameter, with the stitches and lettering in relief. Thru the section of cover that spans the top runs in two lines, "William A. Hulbert, President National League P. B. B. C., 1876-'82." In the circular portions of the other section are, on one side, "Boston, Providence, Worcester, Troy," and on the other, "Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit." A. C. L.

SCOTLAND'S VOICE.

(Robert Burns, 1759-'96.)

Of a' the poets Time has crowned with fame,
An' many sure have borne that golden weight,
There's never one among them a' may claim
A fairer portion of the heart's estate.
What love songs draw a quicker catch of breath,
Or drop more bell-like cadence on the ear?
What shrewder air than that of Scottish heath
Blowing so gravely on the face of care?
Is aught more jocund than the barley bree,
Whose well acknowledged power gives tuneful proof
What sage, ecstatic fancies stir the glee
Of those residing under thatched roof?
O rustic dominie of lyric bards,
Green live your memory and bonnie words!

How to Steer a Rhinoceros.

While conducting the extensive research involved in the preparation of a Brookfield Ballad, I discovered that when a baby rhinoceros accompanies its mother it always runs in front, the mother guiding it by holding the point of her horn upon the little one's rump. An eyewitness says, "It is surprising to note how in all sudden changes of pace, from a trot to a gallop, the same position is always exactly maintained."

Quizzicuss.

To the thousand-and-one slang words in the American language for eccentric conduct, suggesting mental derangement, add "punchy," short for punch-drunk. We learned it from an Italian barber in San Francisco.

A scout reports that a hardy drugstore keeper somewhere in Chicago has hung up a sign in his window advertising "Hitler sundaes." As a defensive measure he has added "Half nuts."

Chicagoans an intrepid, hard-boiled race? Maybe, but whenever we speak of walking by night in out-of-the-way districts, citizens begin to jitter: "Aren't you afraid of getting knocked on the head?" CHARLES COLLINS.

SKIN BLEMISHES AND THE DIET.

THE circulation—which reaches every part of the system—has but little choice about the materials which it carries. It must transport the soluble parts of what we eat. Thus a dietary indiscretion can show itself rather quickly if the epidermis does not happen to like the chemicals dispatched from the digestive tract.

Furthermore, a generous quantity of blood reaches the skin. In fact, this covering is richly equipped with millions of capillaries [minute vessels]. But suppose some compound, into which edibles are transformed, is unacceptable to the surface of the body? In vigorous protest it may rebel—first with redness, then swelling and, finally, a scaly eruption.

Confronted by such a condition, both the patient and the physician will scurry around to identify the cause. This explains why we have developed elimination diets in which one dish after another is omitted—until the disappearance of the difficulty points to a particular culprit.

We must understand also that should the cuticle be poorly fed it may break out with numerous signs of distress. For example, with too little vitamin A [supplied by milk, eggs, spinach, liver, etc.] it may become abnormally dry, with the formation of tiny, hornlike pimples. Should vitamin C be lacking, we may develop ulcers within the mouth, bleeding gums, and minor hemorrhages on mucous areas. This means that tomatoes, oranges, lemons, lettuce, cabbage, etc., are required. When B complex is deficient, we may observe fine lines around the mouth, the typical lesions of pellagra, or extremely dry lips.

There is reason to believe, therefore, that many of our blemishes are due to poor digestion, unsatisfactory assimilation, or to an improperly selected meal. Many a sufferer from psoriasis has been aided materially by keeping the bowel reasonably free from bacteria. Lactic acid is employed for this purpose. In addition, the Grütz plan, which omits fats—plus exposure to ultraviolet light—more often than not will bring an abrupt change for the better in this disfiguring malady.

Again, in acne, restriction of starches and sugars frequently proves helpful. With the ingestion of only a minimum of this class of nutriment, and with local treatment of the lesions, many a youth has been saved much embarrassment, not to mention permanent scarring.

It appears clear, then, that the skin not only can but will react to what goes on inside. We are all familiar with hives, which may burst forth within a few minutes after a meal which contains sea food, eggs, tomatoes, pork, etc. — anything to which the individual is sensitive. The best immediate remedy is a fruit juice diet, for at least 24 hours. Many will improve when the allowance of salt is greatly reduced or shunned entirely. In other words, under this management, the patient may find it possible to use hitherto forbidden items without the development of annoying wheals.

Occasionally, however, a basic digestive disorder may exist. The absence of proper absorption of minerals—for example, an inadequate amount of hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice, or the refusal of the alimentary canal to handle starches or proteins thoroly and completely—all must be considered.

Alcohol aggravates the majority of eruptions because many disturbances are inflammatory in nature. Since one of the prominent effects of the drug is flushing, outbreaks are usually made worse.

A normal balanced diet is our safest guide for most skin disorders. A strange-appearing gaudy rash may well point to a careful study of our menus.

FOR DEFENSE AND THEN SOME.

Chicago, July 17.—It seems of the greatest importance that our military effort should be trimmed down to a program that the country would wholeheartedly support. Divided as we are on the complicated program that is offered us, it seems likely that we may run out of time and money and patience before we get anywhere with it.

If we concentrate on a purely defensive effort we can make it impossible for any enemy to land on our shores, and if this is done it follows that no enemy will make an effort that will end in failure.

This can be done within a reasonable time, and after it is completed if we desire to equip for a world crusade we can still do so.

At the moment we are offered a defense program to which has been added rider after rider until it is loaded down with items which no sane person would consider if the item stood on its own merits. Let us split it up and look at it. Equipment necessary:

[a]. For national defense.

[c]. To "help" [or rather, to do 90 per cent of it]. To help England maintain a dominant place in Europe, in India, on the Seven Seas, and in the world's commerce, and in anything else that she may see fit, without definition or without limit.

[d]. Enough equipment to supply China, Russia, and any other country that [temporarily] offers to oppose Hitler.

[e]. To supply millions or billions to "butter-up" any South American country whose temporary and changing government will "yes-yes" us to secure such handout.

[f]. To prepare equipment necessary to deal with what will follow a peace in case we win. [After all, the administration must face the possibility, however remote, that it might win all these things.]

[g]. Personnel, equipment, transport, food, etc., to maintain armies of occupation in all of Europe and parts of Asia, India, South America, and outlying islands, etc., and to ram the four freedoms down their throats, whether they like it or not. And to keep it that way indefinitely.

This is the "plus" side of the program. On the "minus" side, we propose to demoralize our industrial effort by promoting radical so-called "social reforms," communizing and bribing our labor on one side while we threaten to socialize our industries and replace experienced industrial executives with political commissars on the other.

Is it any wonder our people are confused and hesitate to back up such a program? We look hopefully to see Europe revolt against Hitler's program, but is it at all certain that our people will follow thru to the end, such a program as is here outlined? MACF.

WHERE WOULD T. R. STAND?

Wadsworth, Ill., July 18.—In this department a contributor quotes a remark ascribed to Theodore Roosevelt—"It has been well said there is no surer way of courting national disaster than to be opulent, aggressive, and unarmed." Am I unduly naïve in the assumption that the letter writer is one of our venerable peace at any pricers? This admonition of Theodore's was a reprimand to the administration for shortsightedness in permitting deplorable declination in military preparedness in the Taft and Wilson administrations. This person apparently seeks to convey the impression that if Teddy were here today he would oppose our entry into this war. Let no one place such a construction upon Teddy's observation. There is no question as to which side of the present controversy he would favor. His demand for Hitler's extirpation would be the most clamorous in the country today.

Teddy knuckled down to a situation. He dispatched the fleet to intercept the Kaiser's in the Venezuelan controversy. He it was who cabled to Morocco—"Perdicarus alive or Raisuli dead." He was sensible of the inability of congress to act with sufficient dispatch in certain emergencies. He spoke softly [sic] and carried a big stick. NORMAN B. WARREN.

DICTATED "PATRIOTISM."

Chicago, July 17.—So the dictator of American music has "ordered" all bands and orchestras to play the national anthem at every performance.

Another dictator ordered every conversation to be opened with a salute and the words "Heil, Hitler." How soon, do you suppose, will our national dictator order every citizen to wear an American flag in his buttonhole?

For several years I have been opening my choral musical programs with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Now that it has become compulsory upon members of the musicians' union I shall regretfully discontinue the practice. When patriotism becomes a matter of command by a self-appointed czar it ceases to be patriotism and becomes odious to every loyal heart. DEALTON.

DELAYED THINKING.

Chicago, July 17.—The chief of staff of the army says that all but two of the army divisions are made up partly of draftees, and if the draftees are released at the end of their statutory one year training period, the divisions from which they are taken will disintegrate and melt away.

Wouldn't you think that a man smart enough to be chief of staff of the United States army would have thought of that when he started training the draftees? Or did he "plan it this way"? G. FLY.

ONE FAMILY'S BALLOT.

Elgin, Ill., July 14.—We didn't get a ballot but wish to voice our opinion: No foreign war. Alliance with Russia—a farce. Our own defense—certainly.

No union now or ever with a foreign country. America has plenty of problems of her own to solve and freedoms to preserve. I have written our President, our senators, and others to that effect. "Again and again and again."

ON TEACHING IN GEORGIA.

Hammond, Ind., July 17.—THE TRIBUNE editorial, "Georgia in Chains," struck a high note. How the governor of a great state should mix politics of the vilest sort with its fine educational system is hard to understand. Dr. Walter D. Cocking and three other distinguished educators were deliberately let out of the state's highest educational teaching force for no other reason than that they advocated better school advantages for colored people.

Your editorial will stiffen the backbone of other educators who believe in justice to all the people, regardless of race. It will hearten those who would speak out for the underdog, but are fearful lest they lose their livelihood.

Chicago, July 17.—I've read THE TRIBUNE for many years and have admired its policies. But I was surprised to see your editorial sarcastically belittling the honest efforts of anti-vivisectionists. These people seek only humane treatment for dogs used in medical experimentation. Your article itself states they are "almost" invariably placed under an anesthetic—it is for that percentage wantonly tortured without anesthesia that these good people are working and they are backed by thousands.

For shame that you make this attack to minimize and ridicule such a cause.

GEN. SWIFT GIVES HIS CRITICISM OF DESERT 'BATTLE'

1st Cavalry Division Gets a Day of Rest.

Strive for Realism

Washington, D. C., July 20 [Special].—Stressing the realism which will be attempted during the maneuvers of a half million troops in Louisiana in September, the war department today said correspondents and newspaper photographers with either the Red or Blue forces will be subject to capture as in actual warfare. The department warning said correspondents captured will be subject to detention for 24 hours to prevent disclosure of operations secrets. The September maneuver will be the first ever conducted without a prearranged result. The outcome will depend upon the tactical skill of commanders.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With the First Cavalry Division in the New Mexico desert, July 20.—While soldiers and horses of the 1st cavalry division took advantage of a 24 hour lull to rest up for the next week's battle of the current war games, officers of the division and attached units gathered today to hear criticism of their performance from Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commander of the division.

Gen. Swift's critique was held at his field headquarters, deep in the blistering hot desert flatlands of the maneuver area, 30 miles northeast of Fort Bliss. Three hundred officers stood in the blazing sun or sprawled in the futile shade of mesquite clumps for more than an hour while the veteran cavalry commander gave his ideas of what was wrong and what was right with his division.

Need for Rest Stressed.

Failure of officers to see to it that troops and horses got sufficient food, water, and rest during the 48 hour battle problem which ended at noon yesterday was Gen. Swift's chief criticism.

"War is divided between eating, resting, and fighting," Gen. Swift declared. "I found men in the last problem who had been without sleep for two days and two nights. They are not the men who will win wars. Commanders must pay more attention to this problem, especially out here in the desert where a man's endurance is already taxed to the limit."

Gen. Swift also said that, because of a scarcity in blank ammunition, soldiers participating in the war games are not taking cover properly when they come under simulated machine gun fire. [In such maneuvers, when blank cartridges are lacking, a red flag is waved from machine gun emplacements to indicate that the guns are firing.]

Patrol Action Criticized.

Gen. Swift also found that units of the division have become careless about sending patrols ahead of their main bodies when advancing into "enemy" country. Other faults he mentioned were failure to disperse motor columns properly, so that great losses would be avoided if the columns should be attacked by low flying airplanes, and failure to provide adequate anti-tank and anti-cavalry protection for field artillery units operating with the division.

Displeasure over ice cream and soft drink trucks which even followed the cavalry onto the desert was expressed by the general.

"The soldiers drink and eat this stuff and then write home that they can't stand the army ration," he said in banning such vendors from the maneuver area.

"What impressed me during the maneuvers was the fine performance turned in by the selective service draftees of the division," Gen. Swift concluded.

Schedule of Competitions.

The schedule of competitions follows: North side vocalists will be heard in the Edgewater Beach hotel, on Thursday and Friday nights, July 31 and Aug. 1, at 7 o'clock; west and northwest side entrants on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Aug. 5 and Aug. 6, at the Graemere hotel, at 7 o'clock, and south and southwest side singers on Thursday and Friday nights, Aug. 7 and Aug. 8, in the Shoreland hotel, also at 7 o'clock.

Two singers already entered are Victor A. Bender, dramatic tenor, of 1413 South 49th street in Cicero, and Miss Roberta Holmer, contralto, of 420 South 1st avenue in Maywood.

Mr. Bender, who is 28 years old, was the soloist of an amateur choral group which made a European tour in 1938. He was awarded a musical scholarship in Lithuania and studied there for a year and a half.

Not a Newcomer.

Miss Holmer is not a newcomer to The Tribune vocal contest. She placed second in the west side contralto division in 1939 and first in that voice division in the Cook county finals of 1940.

Two preliminary festivals will be held this week.

The second annual Lake View Community music festival will be staged in the Lincoln-Belmont YMCA auditorium, 3333 North Marshfield avenue, Wednesday night. The second Calumet district festival will be held at Turner field in Hammond, Ind., Saturday night.

MOTORIST DIES IN FLAMING CAR; POLICE SAVE 3

Auto Struck as It Stops for Traffic Signal.

Two Lake Forest policemen plunged into flaming gasoline yesterday and rescued three men after an automobile collision in which a fourth man was burned to death.

The man killed was William Haase, 26, years old, 6655 Diversey avenue. He was riding in a car driven by Bruno Liput, 32, of 3255 North Central Park avenue, with Marvin Hovlid, 26, of 3829 North Marshfield avenue, and William Shannagle, 29, of 2622 Wilton avenue.

Police said the men were approaching Westleigh road in Skokie highway, Lake Forest, when a car in front stopped for a traffic signal. Liput's car struck the car ahead, piercing its gasoline tank. The front car burst into flames, and the occupants of the rear car were hurled into the fire.

The driver of the burning car, Jay Alkire, 24, of Milwaukee, escaped. Policemen James Simmonds and George Niemeyer of Lake Forest, arriving soon afterward, pulled the others from the flames, but Haase had been fatally burned. The rescued were treated at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest. Policeman Simonds was painfully burned in the rescue.

National Tea Executive Killed.

Harry Burnett, 65 years old, general office manager of the National Tea company, was killed last night and two women were injured when his automobile crashed into a light pole at Jeffery avenue and 93d street. He lived at the Lake Shore club, 850 Lake Shore drive.

Those injured were his sister-in-law, Mrs. Marguerite Moorehead, 59, of 25 East Delaware place, and her cousin, Miss Alice H. Hirst, 60, of Cincinnati, O. Mrs. Moorehead suffered a leg fracture and Miss Hirst incurred chest injuries. They are in the South Chicago hospital. Police were told Burnett struck the pole in swerving to avoid a street car.

Killed in Collision.

Harold Geiger, 48, of Cissna Park, Iroquois county, was killed and six other persons were injured yesterday in a collision of two cars at 87th street and Cicero avenue. Mrs. Mary Klimas, 50, of 1409 Arthington street, was the driver of the other car.

Harold Olson of Warren, Minn., died in St. Charles hospital, Aurora, of injuries suffered earlier in the day in an auto accident near Warrenville. His two brothers, Curtis and Kermit, also of Warren, were killed at the scene. Miss Trassia MacKenroth, believed to live either in Warren or Deer River, Minn., is in St. Charles hospital in serious condition. The car crashed into a signal post at the Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin crossing of the Warrenville-Batavia road. The brothers were young men, but their ages were not learned.

Franz Witt, 76, of 1517 North Halsted street, a pensioner, died in Henrotin hospital of injuries suffered March 22 when he was struck by an automobile near his home. The driver was Albert Grinker, 36, of 5322½ Drexel avenue.

Crash Kills Couple.

Le Roy Payne, 27, of 3859 Wilcox street, a traffic clerk, and Mrs. Mabel Gross, 31, of 3843 West End avenue, a waitress, were killed when the car in which they were riding collided with a bus at Laramie avenue and Jackson boulevard.

William Schreiber, 50, rural route 1, Downers Grove, was killed in an automobile collision at Butterfield and Wolf roads in Hillside. The other car was driven by Ralph Yose, 17, of Mendota.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 518 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 366 were killed in Chicago, where 13,314 were injured in the same period.

SCOUTS LIVE UP TO THEIR MOTTO IN FATAL CRASH

Coldwater, Mich., July 20 [Special]. —Chicago Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts, spilled out on a pitch-black roadside in an automobile collision seven miles west of here, that cost two lives and sent six of the Scouts to a hospital early today, lived up to their motto, "Be prepared." They gave first aid to the injured and later helped the nurses at the hospital.

The boys are members of Boy Scout troop 896, with headquarters in the Buena Memorial Presbyterian church, 4301 Sheridan road, and the Sea Scout ship Bounty.

Fifteen of them were on their way to Torrance, Ont., for a camping expedition when their truck collided with a car occupied by Harold Maloney, 19 years old, and Bernard Herman, 37, of Bronson, Mich., both of whom were killed. The car and the truck were wrecked.

These six scouts were injured, but none seriously: Ralph Caruso, 16, of 4603 Beacon street; William Urban, 15, of 5120 Sheridan road; John Manasse, 17, of 1440 Fullerton avenue; Eddie Franke, 12, living near Sheridan road and Fremont street; Fred Muckler, 13, of 753 Montrose avenue; Bradley Borden, 14, of 727½ Briar place. Also injured were Charles McFarland, 29, of 3720 Ferdinand street, who was driving the scouts, and Robert J. Miller, 45, of 4038 Clarendon avenue, the sea scout skipper. Scoutmaster Douglas Lester, 926 Gordon terrace, was uninjured. The injured were brought to the Branch County Health Center here. The camping expedition was abandoned.

FALLS 30 FEET IN MOUNTAINS; HURT SERIOUSLY

Mrs. Elizabeth Mikalauski, 32 years old, daughter of the Rev. James W. Rex, retired pastor of Grace Episcopal church, Oak Park, was in serious condition in an Estes Park, Colo., clinic last night after falling 30 feet while mountain climbing near Chasm lake in Rocky Mountain National park.

Mrs. Mikalauski and her husband were climbing together when he decided to scale Long's peak. She apparently fell while off the main trail, climbing by herself. Mrs. Mikalauski was found by a searching party.

The Mikalauskis, who live at 305 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, with the Rev. Mr. Rex, were vacationing.

LEW FIELDS, 74, COMEDIAN FOR 60 YEARS, IS DEAD

Weber, Stage Partner, at His Bedside.

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 20 (AP).—Lew Fields, 74 years old, who with his boyhood chum, Joe Weber, traveled the nation's vaudeville circuits as a comedian for more than 60 years, died today of pneumonia.

Fields became ill Thursday, sank rapidly, and was placed under an oxygen tent today in a futile attempt to save his life. His widow, Rose; his children, and his comedian partner, Weber, were at the bedside.

"It's like losing my right arm," said Weber. "He's been my whole life. We've grown up together. He was everything to me."

Begin Stage Career in 1876.

Fields was born Lewis Maurice Fields. He and Weber began their famous comedy routine in New York in 1876 when they were little boys. Fields was only 9.

Their first appearances together were in juvenile Dutch sketches at small variety theaters. In 1885, they formed their own company. In 1896, they became proprietors of the famous Weber and Fields Music hall in New York which, for years, was one of the gay spots of Broadway.

Their specialty were satires on various Broadway hits. Their burlesque included "The Geezer," "Under the Red Globe," "Cyranose," "Zazu," "Fiddle-Dee-Dee," "Whoa, Vass Is?" "Hoity Toity," and others.

In 1904, Weber and Fields broke up their partnership. Eight years later, however, they were back together again on Broadway.

Played from Coast to Coast.

Thruout the years, between coast to coast, they produced and starred in almost a show a year. Some of the biggest hits during the late '20s included "Hit the Deck," "A Connecticut Yankee," "Present Arms," and "Hello, Daddy." Their last appearance together in makeup was in the motion picture, "Life of Lillian Russell," a year ago.

Fields was born Jan. 1, 1867. His son, Lew Fields Jr., is a scenarist and has written several plays. A daughter, Dorothy, wrote the lyrics for a number of songs and in 1936 she won the academy award for the best lyrics for "The Way You Look Tonight."

G. O. P. WILL NAME CANDIDATES FOR VACANT BENCHES

John T. Dempsey, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central committee, said last night that it plans to meet Sept. 6 or during the following week to nominate candidates for vacancies created by the deaths of Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby and Judge John J. Rooney of the Municipal court. The election will be held Nov. 4.

This action will be necessary, because a bill signed by Gov. Green on Saturday eliminates a special primary to nominate candidates. A saving of $500,000 will be effected under this plan, according to Senator Harold Ward [D.], sponsor of the bill.

Gov. Green's forthcoming appointment of a successor to the late Judge Denis F. Sullivan of the Superior court will be delayed until at least the middle of August, it was reported. Judge Sullivan died June 26. Because of judicial vacations the new judge would have no work to do until the September term. There are more than 50 aspirants for this $15,000 a year job. The full six year term for the Sullivan seat will be at stake, as will 20 other places on the Superior bench, in the November election.

Letters Begin to Flood Sally for Next Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

It didn't take you boys and girls long to spot the good news in yesterday's TRIBUNE, did it?

The postman has already brought in mail from some youngsters who don't intend to be caught napping.

Boys and girls who've attended Jack and Jill parties with me in previous years remember how much fun it is to go to the little studio, 'way up high in a skyscraper. This studio theater is designed for boys and girls.

The members of Marie Agnes Foley's troupe are going to present "Oliver Twist" from the famous story by Charles Dickens. The cast is made up of youthful players who are experienced troupers.

Any boy or girl may try for an invitation to this party, even tho he may have been a guest at some previous party. If you think you'd like to see poor little Oliver, cross old Mr. Bumble, the wicked Fagin, and all the other characters you've read about in "Oliver Twist," just sit down and write me a letter, telling me why you think you'd have a good time if you were to be in the Jack and Jill theater with me on July 31.

You can write the note in your own words, so you don't need to have any one help you. Just tell me why you think you'd enjoy this treat, and be sure to mention your full name, address, and your age.

All letters must be on my desk by next Thursday morning, so that 50 boys and 50 girls can be selected as my guests. If you're excited about this party get started right now on your letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Tea Announces Engagement of Anita L. Straub

BY JUDITH CASS.

At a small tea on Saturday for relatives and close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Straub of Winnetka announced the engagement of their daughter, Anita Louise, to William Wheeler Darrow. Mr. Darrow is a son of Mrs. Theodore C. Butz of Winnetka.

Mrs. Butz came down for the tea from Madison, Wis., where she is spending the summer with her other son, Jack Darrow. Miss Jane Darrow, sister of the two young men, missed the party, as she is in New Mexico with the Field Museum expedition.

Both Miss Straub and Mr. Darrow attended the North Shore Country Day school. For the last year she has been on leave from her classes at Vassar college, where she is a senior, to study in Arizona. Mr. Darrow was graduated from Yale university in 1939 and is studying at the Harvard law school.

Robert Victor Brundage to Take Bride in Virginia.

Invitiations are out to a wedding of interest here that will take place on Aug. 2 in Leesburg, Va. It is the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Lee Rust and Robert Victor Brundage. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mrs. William Fitzhugh Rust of Leesburg. Mr. Brundage is a son of Mrs. Edward Jackson Brundage and the late Mr. Brundage of Lake Forest and Virginia.

The ceremony will take place at 8 p. m. in St. James' church, with a reception following. Miss Jane Rust will be her sister's maid of honor. The six bridesmaids include Mr. Brundage's sister, Miss Jacqueline Brundage. Their brother, Edward J. Brundage, will be among the ushers. Huntington Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden B. Harris of Leesburg, formerly of Chicago, will be best man, and James H. Symington, whose wife is the former Valeria Harris, also will be among the ushers. The Symingtons live in Lynchburg, Va.

Because there was so little time between the announcement of their engagement and the date of their wedding, Miss Dorothy MacArthur and her fiancé, Winfield Newton Burdick Jr., have not been able to accept half of the parties their friends wish to give for them. There were two parties on Saturday, a luncheon, tennis and swimming party Miss MacArthur's sister, Mrs. Gustavus Babson Jr., and Mr. Babson gave at their home near St. Charles, and a dinner at the Exmoor Country club given by Miss Gertrude Smith, followed by dancing.

Burdick-MacArthur Wedding to Be Saturday in Suburb.

The wedding is taking place next Saturday afternoon at the Libertyville home of Miss MacArthur's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Telfer MacArthur, and a few more parties have been fitted into this busy week. Miss Margot Webbe is giving a tea and bathroom shower tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Rawleigh Warner and her daughter, Mrs. John S. Clifford, are giving a kitchen shower and tea on Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. MacArthur are entertaining informally at dinner on Friday night, following the wedding rehearsal. It will be a family party, really, for Mr. Burdick's parents, the senior Mr. and Mrs. Burdick, who will be here from South Orange. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Templeton will give a luncheon at their Lake Forest home on the day of the ceremony.

Miss MacArthur is to have only two attendants, Mrs. Babson, who will be matron of honor, and the Babson's eldest daughter, Barbara, who will be flower girl. George Henry Tryon III. of West Hartford, Conn., will be Mr. Burdick's best man. Mr. Burdick, an ensign in the United States naval reserves, has been ordered to active duty in San Francisco on Aug. 1. He and his bride will depart immediately for the west coast. They will stop in Santa Barbara on their way to San Francisco.

Miss Muriel Beach and Craig Benson have set Sept. 6 as their wedding date. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, with a reception following at the home of Miss Beach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Adelbert Beach, in Barry avenue.

Miss Jane Ward of Glencoe will be maid of honor. Miss Barbara Burnham, Miss Sally Eastman, and Mrs. Roger Harrington will be bridesmaids. John Benson is to be his brother's best man, and ushers will be another brother, Homer Benson, Magill Lynch, and Jerry Beeman. Mr. Benson and his bride will live in Florida.

Barrington Garden Club to Hear Dorothy Biddle.

The Garden club of Barrington will meet next Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Sheldon Clark to hear Dorothy Biddle talk on "Adventures in Table Setting." Miss Biddle is editor of "Garden Digest." The garden club members are busy these days preparing for their big benefit on Aug. 1 when six of Barrington's handsomest and most interesting estates will be opened for the club's eighth annual country house and garden tour.

Mrs. Bruce MacLeish will open her home, Birkencraig, in Hubbard Woods, on Wednesday, July 30, for the annual Wellesley picnic. Guests will bring their own box lunches and the hostess will serve coffee. There will be swimming and bridge after luncheon. Mrs. Robert Spindell of Evanston is in charge of arrangements.

Dr. and Mrs. Verne Wilson Swigert [Marjorie Helm] of Evanston welcomed their second son on July 15 at the Evanston hospital. The baby, whose brother, Charles II., is 2 years old, has been named Stevenson for Mrs. Swigert's family. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Helm of Evanston and Mrs. Charles J. Swigert of Boone, Ia., are the children's grandparents.

Mrs. Rex Benson and her daughter, Leslie, have left Lake Forest to join Col. Benson, who is connected with the British embassy in Washington, D. C.

Incident in a Shop.

A little boy entered a Chicago camera shop and inquired for darkroom equipment. Complete sets were too expensive, he found, so the saleswoman suggested that she might make up a set out of stock. She made a list of necessary items, but the price was still too high. Then she suggested some items that might be eliminated.

"These expensive enamel trays, for instance," she told the lad. "You can use some of your mother's soup plates."

She crossed out other items instructing him to use in their place clothespins, sickroom thermometer and measuring cup. After the list had been pared down considerably the bill came to $1.84, tax included. She helped the little boy count the coins he pulled from his pocket. He had $1.70. Then he went thru his pockets again and fished out another penny. She let him have the equipment for $1.71. Then she spent half an hour writing out a list of step by step directions for developing film.

BIRTHDAY WISH.

Let the day begin with the birds' dawn choir.
Let it be sun-gilt, wind-fanned perfection,
Custom-cut to heart's desire.

To ring down the curtain at the day's end,
Let there be a moon's rippling reflection
Silvering our river bend.

Ball Game.

A man passing a ball field where a baseball game was in progress asked an outfielder what the score was.

"Ninety-four to nothing," he answered.

The passer-by commiserated with him.

"O, we aren't beaten yet," said the outfielder. "We ain't come up to bat yet."

Weather Casts No Chill on Club Tennis Matches

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

There was plenty of sunshine for the exhibition tennis matches at the Saddle and Cycle club Saturday and yesterday afternoon, but yesterday was more comfortable for the spectators. The tennis enthusiasts who had been chilled Saturday were warmed, however, by the bright prospects announced by Thomas I. Underwood. The club plans to have the best amateurs come here to play after the national tournaments at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Paget Cady, taking tickets yesterday, had his choice of watching his wife and Neil Cowham playing against the Morrill Shepards directly before the ticket booth or of craning his neck to observe Bill Tilden, Vincent Richards, Fred Perry, and Karel Kozeluh on the exhibition court. Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Cady were wearing the smartest of tennis clothes, the former in tailored white shorts and blouse, the latter in a full cut tailored skirt, just above knee length, and worn with a red, white, and blue striped blouse.

The Earl Kribbens, the Winfield T. Durbins II, and many others were present both afternoons. A boxful of charming young girls on Saturday was made up of Mrs. D. Mark Cummings' guests. They included her granddaughters, Joyce, Ruth, and Nancy Cummings, and their cousin, subdebutante Betty Swift; Barbara Priebe and Audrey Fentress. Mrs. Cummings was not present, however.

Mrs. Ogden West was glad she brought along a bright green coat to top her dress of vivid yellow on Saturday.

Solomon B. Smith was one of the many candid camera fans busy taking pictures of Big Bill Tilden and the other players. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the James L. Meloys, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Shambaugh, the Kendall Lingles, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Fairbank, Miss Virginia Waller, and the Fred Herendeens were at the club yesterday. Mrs. Byron Harvey Jr., Miss Martha Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beidler Jr., subdebs Judy Adams and Katherine McLennan, and Nancy Underwood were some of the chilly spectators on Saturday.

2 Best Liked Low Singers Heard in Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Over the week-end Grant park audiences heard two of Chicago's best liked low singers [low in the sense that they range the bass octaves]. The baritone, Raymund Koch, sang Saturday evening with the Rico Marcelli orchestra; the bass, Mark Love, last night with the Chicago Opera orchestra under Rudolph Ganz.

Mr. Koch undoubtedly made his strongest appeal with "Carry Me Back to Ol' Virginny." So fervent and persuasive was his delivery and so pitiless the chill winds sweeping across Grant park that if the audience had risen as one man and started for Virginia its action would have seemed entirely reasonable. Not all of Mr. Koch's offerings were in this popular vein. He did the czar's monolog from "Boris Godunoff" as an opener.

Mr. Love sang Wolfram's hymn to the evening star, from "Tannhäuser," with great seriousness and nobility, following it with a performance of Wotan's farewell ["The Valkyrie"] that projected the god's turmoil of spirit vividly. Later Mr. Love came back with a lighter group.

Saturday marked Conductor Marcelli's first 1941 appearance on the lake front. He is still a dynamic fellow who makes his music vivid and meaningful by live tempi and intelligent phrasing. His own tour de force—an arrangement of the "Song of India" in which he uses the pitiless rhythm of the Ravel Bolero to take all of the effeminacy out of Rimsky-Korsakoff's little tune—stirred the audience to loud applause.

A feature of last night's concert was a performance of the slow movement of the Paderewski symphony as a memorial to its composer.

A welcome item of the program was Beethoven's seldom performed first symphony, a work which has a great deal more than mere historical interest. Its first and second movements, especially, were played with delicacy and grace and length of line.

Overture, "1812" ..... Tschaikowsky

BY CECIL SMITH.

In his two final appearances at Ravinia this season, Nicolai Malko again aroused immense enthusiasm in his audiences, who have realized increasingly with each concert that Mr. Malko's name belongs incontrovertibly in the small list of the truly great conductors of the present day. His musicianship is so wide and so deep, and the technical excellence of his workmanship with the orchestra is so superior, that it is impossible to decide whether to value him more highly as an artist or as a craftsman.

Over the week-end Mr. Malko touched upon an unusually extensive range of music, from Mozart to Stravinsky, from the majesty of Beethoven's Fifth symphony to the blood and thunder of Tschaikowsky's "1812" overture. His breadth of musical view goes beyond mere affection and admiration for music of all times and schools, however, for in every composition he conducted he demonstrated an exceptional understanding of the unique and specific nature of the style and expression of that particular work. The evocation of a suitable orchestral texture always interests him equally with the solution of problems of structure, so that each piece of music, large or small, receives its proper definition both in terms of its purely musical ideas and in terms of its outward sound.

On Saturday evening Mr. Malko presented two works new to Chicago, Prokofieff's "Overture on Jewish Themes" and Rimsky-Korsakoff's Entr'acte music from "The Tale of Tsar Saltan," and threw in Stravinsky's tongue-in-cheek second "Little Suite," which escaped being a novelty by a single previous performance. The Prokofieff overture employs appealing themes, and has its composer's characteristic vigor and movement, but hardly equals the stature of many of Prokofieff's stronger and better known pieces. The "Tsar Saltan" music, full of warm and exotic thematic material and orchestrated with beautiful color, deserves frequent repetition on orchestral programs.

The Beethoven symphony was wonderfully integrated, and attained an emotional climax in the finale. Tschaikowsky's "1812" overture received as thrilling and dramatic a performance as anyone now alive is ever likely to hear.

"A Debt Is Paid"

By Olga L. Rosmanith

[Copyright, 1941, By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

INSTALMENT VII.
TEMPERAMENT.

Jeanie looked round the staring people with a young desperation in her face. She was breathing hard as if she had been running.

"Carol thinks I'm her personal maid off stage as well as on. I won't stand for it. I'm going——"

Carol's hand shook and the champagne cocktail spilled over the rim of her glass. Her cheeks flew red flags of fury. "Can you beat that! Ungrateful! She's darned right she is. The bad tempered little sweep!"

"Go up and get your wrap on. I'll take you home."

"But Maurice——"

"She's gone. So we can't do anything about it tonight, can we?"

Hugo said a few good nights and steered Kitty to the door. He was his ironic imperturbable self. "We'll go too. You were lucky. You saw us at our best."

"But Jeanie! That nice child. I'd never have thought——"

Hugo opened the door of his car for her.

"You don't know her, do you? But she has her moods. She can be a very tempestuous little person."

"After all, Hugo, why does Miss Keyes expect her to wait on every one?"

"Because Carol financed the production and she considers giving Jeanie a chance to learn and be seen is a favor. And so it is really. Experienced young Broadway actresses would be glad even of those small parts both for the chance of being seen by a talent scout and to keep from stagnating. There's too much talent to be absorbed by the jobs there are to go round."

The headlights picked up a figure in slacks and pullover walking sturdily under the trees. Hugo drew up a little ahead of her. "Hop in, Jeanie," he said.

Jeanie hopped in thankfully. She leaned over from the back seat. "You're a swell guy, Hugo."

"And you're a little fool dropping your bread buttered side down—or I should say throwing it. After all the work I've put into training you. What's got into you?"

"But, Hugo, she didn't even say please."

Kathleen was jarred by Hugo's caustic tone. "Since when does money have to? Now, Jeanie, how often have I told you that if you want to get on you must be a realist."

"And flatter that she-peacock and tie up her shoes?"

"It's the way of all flesh, Jeanie."

"I guess I'm all washed up now. I guess she'll fire me in the morning. So what? If she does I'll tell her what I think of her. How I do hate that woman!"

Hugo let her talk and Kathleen also remained silent. He drove past the entrance side of Kathleen's house and up the curving road by Mr. Jessel's place to the white gates of the hotel. Jeanie thanked him and got down.

Hugo leaned thru the window. "Do some thinking before you talk, Jeanie. You'll have to pay for what you say. Decide how much you can afford before you speak. Frankness might cost too much."

Jeanie was subdued now. "I guess you're right. I'll try and stay in the show—if it isn't too late. Good night, Hugo—good night, Miss Murray."

Hugo drove slowly back to Lakes End. "It wasn't quite the convivial party I planned for you, Kitty."

"It was very dramatic. And Mrs. Mount being your foster mother was a surprise. Tell me all about it."

"You didn't like her, did you?"

"That's not fair, Hugo. What makes you say such a thing?"

"I could see it. Well, I don't blame you. She takes a lot of understanding. That laughter of hers—well, that's her armor. Against life that's dealt her many blows. Some people wear the willow when they get knocked too much. But she shuts herself in silver."

"Wish I were. I'd write a play about her. But I'm not yet up to it. Thing is, Kit-Kat, she's a marvelous woman. I couldn't tell you how marvelous. My own mother was a touring vaudeville actress. She died a few weeks after I was born. Ellen Mount took me and cared for me when I was a baby. I owe her everything."

"Maybe she owed you something, too. I mean, Hugo, that some women would give the world to own a baby."

"She gave the world for me, all right. I was just a millstone round her neck. In those days she was always traveling. She had to pay some one out of her precarious earnings to take care of me. She's always been a great actress and she's always had high ambitions. But she didn't have the breaks. They make all the difference. If you knew the inside story of some spectacular careers——"

"Well, that's not the point. I mean other people's lives. She did get one break. A lead on Broadway. At that time I was 8 years old. And I had to be dangerously ill—so ill that the will to live was my only hope. So she stayed with me because I adored her. Night and day she sat there and never let go of my hand."

"I begin to see," said Kathleen, quietly.

"She lost that part, of course," Hugo went on. "But fate took offense at the snub. She never got another chance at Broadway. Plenty of near chances, but they always fell thru. That's why I try to write a part for her in all my plays. She's not an ingénue any more, but she's greater than ever as an artist. She'll be on Broadway yet. Some day the right man will come and see her."

"I really did think she was wonderful in her part," said Kathleen. "And I did like her. It's just the impression she gives that she thinks you're a half baked child—and that look in her eyes—as if she's laughing at you."

"Don't worry if she does. Why let anything be a thorn in the flesh? If you do, there's an end to living."

He drew up at Lakes End, but he did not get out. Kathleen spoke out of the thoughts that came to her.

"That Maurice Reed. I can understand him being crazy about Miss Keyes. She's like a California poppy. But what on earth can she see in him? He's so negative."

Hugo laughed. "But so handsome! And a gent of strong passions. You know, women are funny. Otherwise men would have a hell of a time. Maybe a girl will fall for me someday."

"Funnier things have happened," said Kathleen evenly, and then, changing the subject, "Do you think he'll ever get anywhere?"

Hugo answered with a rueful laugh. "You never know here. He's possible for the screen. I've seen directors shoot one scene 38 times to get sense from an actor; you'd be surprised what well known actors. But never the stage. If he's got sense he'll marry Carol while she's willing——"

"Then you'd have two bosses at the little theater."

"O, no. You don't know her. Neither does he. She looks like spun sugar, but she's made of concrete. I've tried breaking little concessions off her——"

"But is she so powerful? I mean, doesn't the theater pay its way with the box office?"

"No. If we charged that much we'd have no audience. We're cooperative and we share the proceeds, but we have to have scenery and props, keep up the property and employ stage hands and electricians at union rates. They get more than the playwright."

"That's awful!"

"It isn't. There's no chance of a stage hand becoming a well heeled celebrity overnight. Give me the life with the chances in it——"

Kathleen put her hand on the door handle. "I must go now, Hugo. Thanks for a lovely evening. I enjoyed every minute."

"Especially the session with Wilkie Stokes. I could see you shuddering."

She laughed and opened the door. "Yes, he was shuddery! He makes you feel there's murder in the air. You can smell the queer acrid smell of it." She jumped down to the gravel. "Now I'm getting fanciful. Good night, Hugo."

"Good night, Kitty—dear."

Now About This 'Barnacle Bill': Hope You Like It

"BARNACLE BILL."
Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
Directed by Richard Thorpe.
Presented at the Garrick.

THE CAST.

Bill Johansen.....Wallace Berry
Marge Cavendish.....Marjorie Main
Pico Rodrigues.....Leo Carrillo
Virginia Johansen.....Virginia Weidler
"Pop" Cavendish.....Donald Meek
John Kelly.....Barton MacLane
Mamie.....Connie Gilchrist
Aunt Letty.....Sara Haden

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Two ever lovin' females [Marjorie Main and little Virginia Weidler] finally succeed in making a man out of that ol' no 'count fishin' boat captain, Bill Johansen, better known to his cronies as Barnacle Bill.

There's your plot in a nutshell.

Miss Main is seen as the hard headed, hard loving, soft hearted daughter of a waterfront storekeeper [Donald Meek]. Virginia plays Bill's daughter whom he hasn't seen since she was a baby and who comes from Gloucester where she's been living with a crusty aunt [Sara Haden] to reside with her papa. . . . He has no idea what on earth to do with this new responsibility—but Marge Cavendish HAS. . . .

Mr. Beery as Bill is characteristically dirty, lazy, and generally repulsive to the God fearing and the up and coming. . . . Miss Main garners a lot of laughs, playing as always with her tongue in her cheek, and the ladies coo—"ISN'T she SWEET!" over small Virginia—who IS a lamb! . . . Leo Carrillo as Bill's devoted helper is a good man in a lousy rôle. . . . Mr. Meek is able as the script allows. . . . Not much—the script.

The film just sort of goes on and on to an expected ending.

Hope you like it.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood - By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 20.—Sunday—A morning's work, and then to the Riviera Country club horse show for a fine sunburn. Sy Bartlett, the scripter, is ring chairman or something, and he has a number of celebs on hand to bestow the ribbons, including Gene Tierney and his own fiancée, Ellen Drew. Bruce Cabot gives out one set of ribbons and the announcer, going fancy, introduces him as Bruce Ca—bot, which gets a laugh. . . . 20th Century Fox has a camera crew on hand. But it isn't shooting for newsreels. It is looking for a young boy who can ride for a picture. Few boys compete, however; it's mostly girls. Best of the small males is Peter Bennett Plant, Constance Bennett's handsome young son. . . . I have a pleasant talk with George Zucco, one of my favorite yillains, who has just been a butler-spy in "International Lady." He's had one of the most interesting stage careers I've heard of. A broker's clerk, he made his debut in Regina, Sask., toured this country, Canada, and Alaska, and played most of the mining camps that now are ghost towns. He was wounded in the World war, then really got down to acting by studying at the Royal academy. He was the original Lieut. Osborne in "Journey's End."

Monday—To the Warner plant, where Martha Scott and Fredric March are wheeling their perambulator along the sidewalk of an Iowa town in "One Foot in Heaven." The company has been working on the back lot for a couple of weeks, doing the Dodge City exteriors. Soon it will move to another back lot location for Denver scenes. Right now it's about the time of the armistice, and I tell Miss Scott she looks kinda cute in the dress of the day. "Impossible!" she says. "This period was the worst in history for women's clothes. Look at this skirt—not short enough and not long enough."

Tuesday—With the F. H. A. Brandts to Paramount, where four technicolor pictures are in the works. Brandt, visiting here, is an electrical scientist, and his interest is not in the stars, but in the lighting. He thinks one day the movies will use high pressure mercury vapor lamps and fluorescent light. With the latter, actors could work almost in the dark, and the mercury vapor would be far more efficient than the familiar carbon arcs. . . . Fred Geiger, head of Paramount's electrical department, says he has seen a demonstration of a water cooled mercury light, and maybe something will come of it.

Wednesday—A long day of writing, and then to Everett Crosby's cocktail part, for Florence Easton, one-time Metropolitan opera star. The Met's Earle Lewis is there, and, after reporting on all the Dutch treat gang, he tells of the success of the Met's great new comedian, Baccaloni. "The movies will get him," says Earle. "He can steal a show from anybody. . . . His comedy looks absolutely spontaneous—but it is all timed to split second and plotted to the beat of the music." . . . Everett takes me down into his wine cellar and it's a veritable wonderland. When prohibition came he bought the cellar of a San Francisco hotel, and his whiskies, brandies, and wines are all from 40 to 100 years old.

Thursday—Just a lot of homework, interrupted by lunch at Romanoff's, and in the evening to a neighborhood movie to catch up on a couple of comedies—"In the Navy" and "Tight Shoes." I think Abbott and Costello are funnier than their picture, but the battleship "chase" at the end is in the fine old tradition. I do not care for the Andrews sisters. "Tight Shoes" is fairly amusing, and my respect for Broderick Crawford, already high, grows.

Friday—A day off, and so to the links. A number of the Lakesiders gather to say good-by to Capt. Richard Carroll, who's off by motor to Fort Monmouth, N. J. . . . In the evening with the Bob Sisks to the ball game. Everybody is rooting for Hollywood, so I choose Oakland—but Hollywood wins.

Saturday—To Universal, to watch Eddie Cline and W. C. Fields making "The Great Man." It's wonderful the things you can see free when you're a correspondent . . . and in the evening to the Frank [Moon] Willards, who are having a housewarming.

When it is necessary to watch the food budget carefully, no smart woman is going to make cakes which take a lot of expensive ingredients. Low cost recipes such as these can produce cakes as feathery, tender, and delicious as any of the fancier formulas, and the budget cakes probably are better from a health standpoint than are many richer concoctions.

Economy Toasted Spice Cake.
[Eight inch square pan.]
½ cup vegetable shortening
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¾ cup sour milk
1¾ cups flour
¾ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup brown sugar for meringue
¼ cup chopped nuts, if desired

Cream shortening and sugar thoroly until very light. Beat 1 egg and 1 yolk and add, beating thoroly. Add salt. Sift flour [it isn't necessary to use cake flour] with soda and spices, several times. Add sifted dry ingredients and sour milk alternately, in three parts each. Beat well after each addition. Fill well greased pan. Whip the reserved egg white until light, then add the ½ cup brown sugar, sifting it into the egg. Beat until the meringue is stiff enough to hold a peak. If nuts are used, sprinkle them over the batter. Cover batter with meringue. Bake cake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes. This cake has its own crisp baked frosting. That's one reason why it's called economy cake.

One Egg Cake with Caramel Frosting.
[Eight inch square pan.]
¼ cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1 unbeaten egg
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream margarine until soft and fluffy. Add sugar gradually and beat until very light. Add egg and beat in thoroly. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Alternately add flour and milk, in three portions each. Beat batter thoroly after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Pour into greased pan and bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes. Let cake cool 5 minutes, then turn out onto a rack and cool completely. Frost with this caramel frosting: Cook 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar and 1 cup milk [or equal parts evaporated milk and water] to the soft ball stage. Add 1 tablespoon margarine, cool to luke warm, and beat until spreadable.

Readers who care for them may have recipes for economy cakes without charge. Send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

Children Can Show Courtesy by Address

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"I have a daughter five years old. She always has been a sweet-mannered child.

"We have just recently come from the south, where 'ma'am' and 'sir' are always used. Don't you think it is more becoming for a child to say 'Yes, ma'am' rather than a plain 'yes'? It worries me to see her lose these courtesies and also lose her better diction by daily association with children in the neighborhood. If you have any suggestions, I would be happy to receive them."

It seems to me a point such as this is entirely a matter of individual choice. In her own south, the writer states, "ma'am" or "sir" is considered by mothers the only respectful or courteous form for children to use in speaking to grownups. If she still feels so, she may insist that her little girl continue that form of address.

However, her daughter is now associating with children who do not say "ma'am" and "sir." It is natural for the child to drop it, especially as some one may have laughed at her or teased her about it. To force her to continue in this southern speech courtesy may be difficult or embarrassing.

If her mother feels that a simple "yes" or "no" is not well-mannered, she can teach her daughter to say "yes, mother" or "no, mother," or in the case of relatives or friends, add their names to her reply, such as "Yes, Aunt Molly," or "No, Dr. Brown."

Altho form of speech is part of "etiquet" and has to be learned by a child directly or thru imitation, it is, however, her tone of voice and her manner and expression that really give the impression of courtesy.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The worst errors at the bridge table are not those which result from faulty memory or from imperfect concentration. Any one, expert or novice, is likely to overlook a discard and to be unaware that some eight or nine has been promoted to winning rank. And there are many other types of errors which, altho costly, are more or less excusable. The one type of error which cannot be alibied is an inconsistent, illogical bid or play, such a play, for instance, as East made in the following hand.

North, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q J 5
♥ A K 10 9 3
♦ K Q 9
♣ A J

WEST
♠ K 9 8 2

♣ K Q 9 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	1 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the deuce of spades. Dummy's queen was played. East won with the ace and, taking no pains to analyze the situation, woodenly returned a spade. West, without a possible outside entry, made the correct play of ducking, in the hope that East could stop dummy's strong suits and would have a third spade with which to put West back on lead. Of course, West could have saved the game by making a remarkable guess, taking the spade king and shifting to a diamond, but this would have required second sight.

Dummy's spade queen won and declarer's lot was now a happy one. He had only to clear the heart suit in order to insure his contract, and an extra trick.

East's defense had been too horrible for words. On winning with the spade ace, certain facts should have been super obvious. First, considering all the honors in sight, West could not possibly have an outside entry and might not even have the spade king. East himself had the most dangerous suit [hearts] stopped. It devolved on East, therefore, to launch a defense which would have a definite chance for success. This, of course, was to return the jack of diamonds, up to dummy's K-Q-9. Later, when East regained the lead with the heart queen [as he certainly could count on doing] he would return his spade. If this found West with the spade king, West could come thru dummy's remaining diamond honor. If West did not have the king of spades, it was a hopeless proposition, but surely, if that were true, it would be at least equally hopeless to return a spade at the second trick.

Universal day—Don't stress material values today or try to get anything for nothing.

August—The coming month will be a nine month for those who are in a one year. This means that many things which they started several months ago will now come to an end and they will have to finish up or break off some ties, associations, or projects. It is a sort of winding up month, so be prepared to drop excess baggage and start traveling lighter. Since this is the beginning of a new cycle for those in a one year there ought not to be much left to drop out of your life as it should have been accomplished last year. But if you didn't make all the breaks clean then, now is the time to do it before you get that big, important start next month on an entirely different angle that should last for the next nine years.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Ours will have been a well spent life if we ever succeed in convincing women of the merits of at least an occasional treatment for the benefit and beauty of their hair. It baffles us that women who have extravagances—some of them whoppers, too—hate to pay for the professional corrective hair treatment, which is as different from the usual quick shampoo and set as a diamond is from a rhinestone.

Pretty hair, well cleansed, polished and dressed, is a frame that flatters the plainest face. Intelligent care can make it the feature that is your chief claim to eye-arresting chic.

The good treatment is based on leisurely, thoro cleansing. In its corrective aspects it's individualized, with special medication and methods for the oily or the dry condition or the dandruff that is such a universal ailment. The rinsing in the professional corrective shampoo is not casual. Usually water softeners are used.

You can see the difference after one good treatment. After a course of them the most stubborn hair troubles usually melt away. The scalp regains its health, and the hair, in its new luster and elasticity, is prettier and more flattering than most women ever dreamed theirs could be.

MOTHERS, DO YOU REMEMBER?

President Roosevelt, on Oct. 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act, said:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

"The purpose of our defense is defense."

BOY, 15, JAILED IN GIRL'S SLAYING; 2D BODY FOUND

Reading, Mass., July 20 [Special].—Raymond Woodward, 15 years old, of Reading, was charged tonight with the murder of Constance Shipp, 15, while police of nearby Salem investigated the murder of Frances W. Cochrane, 19, whose mutilated body was found by a roadside today.

The Shipp girl's slashed and battered body was found yesterday in a vacant Baptist church parsonage after she had been missing for four days.

Miss Cochrane was seen getting into a car Thursday night. The driver of the car was described as a man of swarthy complexion.

Anonymous Phone Call.

An anonymous phone call to a radio station led to the discovery of Miss Cochrane's body. The station had just finished broadcasting an appeal by the girl's mother when a man telephoned and said the body of a woman can be found on Danvers road. An attempt to trace the call failed.

Within half an hour the battered body of Miss Cochrane was found.

Round Up Sex Offenders.

The similarity in the deaths of Miss Cochran and the Shipp girl, prompted police of Lynn and adjacent communities to prepare a roundup of sex offenders. Lynn police also came to Reading to confer with the authorities here.

At Reading, the Woodward boy, who had been hired by the minister to cut and water the lawn at the parsonage during the family's absence denied involvement in the Shipp girl's murder.

MORMONS HOLD REHEARSAL FOR PIONEER FETE

Women clad in austere gowns and men outfitted in the western fashion of a century ago formed a handcart train yesterday outside the Church of the Latter Day Saints, 2555 North Sawyer avenue.

The men and women and children that formed the train were direct descendants of Brigham Young's pilgrims, who nearly 100 years ago were driven out of Nauvoo, in Hancock county, and trekked across the western plains and badlands into Utah.

The vanguard of the Mormon pilgrims reached the Great Salt Lake valley on July 24, 1847, and next Thursday their descendants will celebrate Pioneer day in Humboldt park. Yesterday was the dress rehearsal.

SANITY HEARING FOR BOY SLAYER MAY BE REQUIRED

Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg of the Illinois house of representatives yesterday said an act awaiting action by Gov. Green may make necessary a sanity hearing for Richard Wesolik, parolee from the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, who killed Mrs. Margaret Jung of Woodstock, the mother of five children.

Representatives Garman [top] and Dillavon.

The measure was introduced by Representatives Tom M. Garman [Dem.] and Ora Dillavon Rep.], both of Urbana. It contains provisions dealing with the prosecution of morons. Under it, a person less than 17 years of age [Wesolik is 16] would be exempt from criminal liability unless such a person had been previously found by a court to have sufficient mental capacity to understand the nature of his act.

Should Gov. Green sign the bill, Schackenberg said, it propably would be necessary for the McHenry county state's attorney to get an affirmative ruling on Wesolik's mentality before Wesolik could be put on trial for murder.

ROSS DEFEATED IN OVERTIME GAME WITH A'S

Lyons Hangs Up His 242d Victory.

Kuhel Sets Record

JOE KUHEL of the White Sox set a new major league record for chances accepted by a first baseman in a double header with 17 putouts in the first game and 23 putouts and an assist in the second game in Comiskey park yesterday with the Athletics for a grand total of 40 putouts and 41 chances. The listed record for a double header, without reference to the number of innings, was set by Hal Chase with 38 on Aug. 5, 1905, when he was with the New York Americans. Chase also set the National league record, 35, when he was with the Giants. It was set in a double header between New York and Pittsburgh, Aug. 26, 1919. Kuhel probably would have had another putout in the second game if Jim Webb had not committed the game losing error in the 13th inning.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[BOX SCORES ON PAGE 17.]

The White Sox and the Athletics for the second successive day split a double header yesterday in Comiskey park. In the first game Bill Beckman lost to Ted Lyons, 2 to 1, to give the veteran his ninth victory of the season and his 242d as a member of the White Sox. In the second game, which the A's won, 4 to 1, in the 13th inning, Bump Hadley confined the Sox to a first inning unearned run until he tired and gave way to Tom Ferrick in the 11th. Ferrick scored the winning run in the 13th after an error by Skeeter Webb at second base had opened the gates for a three run splurge, climaxed by Bob Johnson's double, which drove in two more runs.

Buck Ross, obtained from the A's this season, pitched a grand game for the Sox, but had to carry a cast of helpless batsmen who made only six hits, one of which Ross knocked himself.

Wright Does His Part.

In the first game the Sox made all their nine hits off Beckman in the first five innings. Then they failed to get a man on base in their last three innings.

Those nine hits, however, were one more than their grand total for both of Saturday's games, so the Chicagoans felt quite elated. Leading the Chicago sluggers in the first game was Taft Wright with two doubles and a single. His first double drove in Joe Kuhel with the first run. Kuhel had been credited with a double when his high pop fly fell safely near the pitcher's mound. Mike Tresh scored the second run in the fourth after making his second single, going to second on Lyons' single and reaching home on Don Kolloway's double. Each Chicago run was made after two were out. Lyons missed a shutout when Sam Chapman led off the seventh inning with his 10th homer of the season. The A's made only six hits in all off Ted.

Sox Miss Scoring Chance.

A first inning hit by Kolloway and three Philadelphia errors, with a stolen base mixed in, gave the Sox their run in the second game. The A's tied it up in the second inning and then followed a battle in which the White Sox missed several scoring chances in the late innings while Ross held the A's helpless for an

CUBS LOSE FIRST TO GIANTS, 7-5; OLSEN WINS, 7-4

Schumacher Routed in Second Game.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 20.—The sixth place Cubs absorbed a little grief and also grabbed off a morsel of joy today before concluding their third eastern tour of the season. They were thumped by the Giants in the first half of a double header, 7 to 5, but later in the afternoon they had a lot of fun handing Bill Terry's athletes a 7 to 4 drubbing. It was the fourth victory in 13 battles in the east.

In the first game, after Claude Passeau had been knocked out, the Cubs let go with a series of homers. Babe Dahlgren hit his 13th in the seventh. In the next inning Augie Galan notched his first of the year, and Billy Nicholson his 17th. But the homers merely served to knock out old Carl Hubbell, who nevertheless captured his seventh straight triumph and the 10th the Giants have taken from the Chicagoans this year.

Cubs Knock Out Schumacher.

Having been severely stung by the bats of alumni members, Dickie Bartell and Bill Jurges, in the first game the Cubs were slow to start in behalf of Vern [Lefty] Olsen in the second contest. For five innings they were helpless before Hal Schumacher, Olsen meanwhile laboring under a one run handicap. But in the sixth the Chicagoans riddled Schumacher and his rescuer, Cliff Melton, for six hits, good for five runs. The remainder of Olsen's seventh success of the year was just a matter of southpawing until the 27th putout had been recorded.

FIRST GAME

Bartell started Passeau on the down grade in the first game by opening the fifth with a double and going to third when Jurges looped a single into right. Hubbell then rammed a double into left, Bartell scoring. Later in the inning Whitehead singled, sending Jurges and Hubbell across.

The sixth, Passeau's last inning, opened with a jolt when Young hit a long homer into right center. Before Passeau recovered from this shock he had walked both Bartell and Jurges, the former scoring the Giants' fifth run on Rucker's single.

The first sign of Hubbell's sudden decline was Dahlgren's homer against the upper left field deck close to the foul line with one out in the seventh. Then Stringer beat out a slow roller to Bartell at the start of the eighth and after Hack had fanned, Galan hit a homer to left, his first of the year. An instant later Nicholson lined his homer into the right field upper story and Melton came dashing to Hubbell's rescue.

In the Giants' half, Jurges doubled off French and Rucker crashed his first homer of the year, giving the Giants ample protection against the Cubs' ninth inning flurry when Dahlgren's single and Hudson's double off Bill Lohrman led to one run.

SECOND GAME

Whitehead's double and a single by Arnovich gave Schumacher a one run lead at the outset. Except for a fluke single the Cubs were stopped until the sixth when with one out Stringer and Olsen rammed singles into left and Hack walked. A single by Galan sent Stringer and Olsen to the plate. Hack scored on Dallessandro's single and Schumacher departed, leaving the mound open for Melton's second appearance of the day. Nicholson's foul fly to Ott caused no trouble, but when Dahlgren singled and Hudson doubled, two more Cubs checked in at the plate.

The Giants had Olsen breathing heavily for a few minutes in the home sixth. Singles by Arnovich and Danning and a pass to Young filled

ANDERSON SEES DREAM WALKING TO A TOUCHDOWN

Coach of 1940 All-Stars Recalls Their 1st Score.

BY DR. EDWARD ANDERSON.
[Head Football Coach University of Iowa.]

Iowa City, Ia., July 20.—Many football coaches who turn to the profession after their playing days are over often dream of having a perfect team—three or four deep in hard charging linemen, powerful blockers, speedy ball carriers, and accurate passers. I saw the dream actually on the football field. I was head coach of the College All-Americans who played the Green Bay Packers, National Football league champions, in Chicago's Soldiers' field last summer.

However, like most pleasant, beautiful dreams, there wasn't a perfect ending. The College All-Stars lost the game to the Packers, 45 to 28, but while it lasted we enjoyed every minute. When the bubble burst we had the satisfaction of knowing we had participated in the sort of a dream game 84,567 spectators wanted to see. It was better to have played a wide open game and lost than to have dozed for 60 minutes on the lake front.

Goes to Iowa in 1939.

In the fall of 1939 I began my coaching duties at the University of Iowa after six years at Holy Cross. The material was not plentiful, but the players on the squad were determined to carry on a successful campaign. Newspaper men called them the Iron Men. They were Iron Men and we went thru our schedule with amazing success. It was a different setting when the nation's football fans elected me as head coach of the All-Americans in 1940. There were the country's All-Americans actually reporting for practice at Northwestern's Dyche stadium—All-Americans in the flesh, not in newspaper columns.

I pinched myself when I saw my assistant coaches—Tad Wieman of Princeton; Lowell Dawson of Tulane; Buck Shaw of Santa Clara, and Don Faurot of Missouri. A group of the players on the field included Ken Kavanaugh of Louisiana State; Bill Fisk, Bob Winslow, Harry Smith, and Ambrose Schindler, Southern California; Lou Brock, Purdue; Tad Harvey, Notre Dame; Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State; John Schiechl, Santa Clara; Ed Kolman, Temple; Clyde Turner, Hardin-Simmons; Lee Artoe, California; Frank Emmons, Oregon; Hal Van Every, Minnesota; Banks McFadden, Clemson, and Nile Kinnick, Iowa's half back.

Four Now Are Bears.

From this group of players there are four returning to the site of that spectacular, high scoring game of a year ago. They are Kolman, Kavanaugh, Turner, and Artoe, now members of the Chicago Bears, who will meet the 1941 group of All-Americans in Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 28. I saw many of the 1940 collegiate seniors who undoubtedly will be elected to the squad, and I know they are capable of doing a fine job in attempting to make the 1941 dream game end in an All-American victory.

It is difficult to single out players and the one maneuver which stands out in my memory of that grand experience in the 1940 All-Star game. However, slip the easy chair behind me, bring my slippers and I'll relate the play which kept my dream walking. It occurred early in the first quarter of the game with the Packers. It was the first touchdown. I remember vividly how Schindler and Kinnick started it.

Schindler Intercepts Pass.

The Packers had the ball and Cecil Isbell attempted a pass. It was intercepted by Schindler near the 50 yard line. Schindler finally was stopped on the Packer 18 yard line. In two plays, one around right end, the other thru

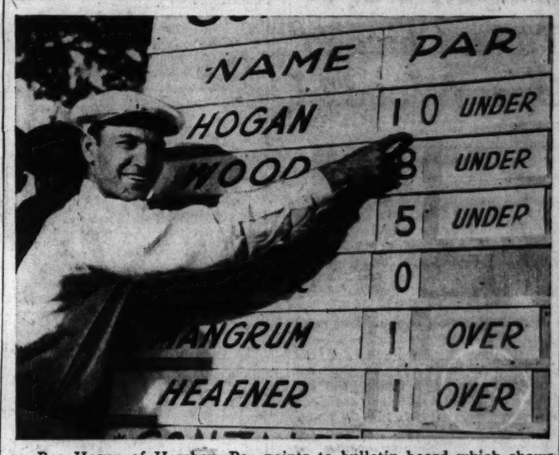
Hogan Lets Board Tell Story



Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., points to bulletin board which shows him 10 under par for the 72 hole Chicago Open tournament which he won yesterday with a 274 score. Hogan, who opened with a 66 on Friday, closed with a pair of 69s yesterday to stand off a gallant bid by Craig Wood who scored 276. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

MAJOR league managers who bemoan bad breaks may get some consolation from the plight of the Nashville club of the Southern association. . . . Second Baseman Mihalic suffered a fractured ankle, Outfielder Dugas incurred a broken leg and not long ago Les Fleming, league leading hitter with an average of .410, came out of a game with a broken wrist. . . . Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion, has obtained a job as announcer for a radio station in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. . . . When Denny Carroll, trainer for the Detroit Tigers, quit baseball he meant it. . . . He has retired to a modest estate in Sonoma, Cal., and never goes near a ball park. . . . Bobby Falkenburg, national boys' tennis champion, won't let a broken arm keep him out of the title tournament at Culver Military academy, Aug. 4 to 9. . . . He will play with his arm strapped to his side and will serve underhanded. . . . Hooper Triplett, brother of the Cardinals' Coaker Triplett, is batting .352 for Ray Blades' New Orleans Pelicans. . . . Ace Parker, back field ace of the Brooklyn Football Dodgers, hopes to become a golf professional when his gridiron days are over. . . . Frisco Edwards, Pacific Coast league umpire, removes his false teeth before stepping onto the diamond. . . . Jim Gallagher, Cubs' general manager, is finding the hamburger phase of the baseball business one of his most intriguing new duties. . . . When you need hamburger, good hamburger, all you have to do is call up the butcher and tell him you want the very best—and over it comes. . . . Place the same kind of an order with a Cub scout for a grade A ball player and nothing happens.

One of the most important topics in the National PGA convention in Chicago next November will be the five year rule by which such a widely known match play competitor as Lawson Little is barred from becoming a member of the organization. . . . Little has served only two years at a club. . . . There are movements under way to amend the rule. . . . The government had not decided when the All-Star baseball receipts were counted whether it would levy a tax on the funds which were given to the USO. . . . Not taking any chances, officials took $6,000 off the top, just in case. . . . Gene Sarazen is not, like many of his pro colleagues, a camera fan, but regularly uses a fine pair of binoculars he bought in Suez on one of his round-the-world tours. . . . One reason Umpire Beans Reardon retains his popularity is his refusal to alibi when he miscalls a play. . . . He told some Cincinnati players several days ago that he had been wrong in calling out Linus Frey on a force play at second base. . . . Eddie Josephs Jr., son of the referee of the Louis-Conn fight, will be a sophomore tackle at Columbia university this fall. . . . He is 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 218 pounds.

Snow Capped Mountains.

The cherubs of heaven were baking a cake
When some sugar spilled on the floor;
"We'll let it fall where it may," they said,
And they swept it out of the door.

Down thru the clouds it came, crystal and white,
To rest on a mountain peak;
And now every crater is frosted alike,
For the angels bake twice in a week.

GOES TEN UNDER PAR AS CRAIG TURNS IN 276

Dick Metz Shoots 279 for Third.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Benjamin Hogan, a steely eyed Texan who can take it and give it, yesterday won the fourth annual $5,000 Chicago Open golf tournament with a gleaming 72 hole card of 274, 10 under par for the distance over the sunny acreage of the Elmhurst Country club. The 140 pound professional from Hershey, Pa., thrilled a record gallery of more than 8,000 by the finish with which he outlasted a champion's champion — Craig Wood, National Open title holder from Mamaroneck, N. Y.—by two strokes.

For two days Hogan, who is the current possessor of the valued Vardon trophy and who has not been out of the money in 50 consecutive tournament appearances, had dominated the scene. His 66 in Friday's first round gave him a one shot margin on the opening field. He followed that up Saturday with the 69 that left him three strokes to the good.

Leads at 54 Holes with 205.

Yesterday morning Hogan shot a 69, 2 under par, to take the 54 hole lead with 205, four shots in front of Wood, who, after playing the first two rounds in even par, came out with a 67 for the third round and a three-quarters total of 209. During the course of that third round, the gallery realized that Hogan was not going to make a runaway of the best fairway event Chicagoans have seen in years. Wood, who had trailed Hogan by six strokes at the start of the final day's play, actually caught the pacemaker at the 13th hole of the morning round. He took a bogey on the 14th, however, and then, while he finished 4-5 on the par four 17th and 18th, Hogan came back with a brace of birdies to assume a four shot margin at the intermission.

Wood was not particularly proud of his first 67, for only a loyal putter kept him in the battle. He required only 25 putts in that morning round, and these included three on the 54th green.

Gallery Is Divided.

The afternoon round found the huge throng divided between Hogan and Wood, altho the turn of the final 18 found nothing more decisive than a pair of 34s for both, leaving them still four strokes apart, Hogan with 239 for 63 holes and Wood with 243. Wood picked up a shot with a birdie on the 11th, and his birdie on the par five 12th against the six Hogan took there a half hour later left him only one stroke behind. Tournament officials at this point began to debate about what hour they would hold a playoff today.

Hogan's victory, from a technical standpoint, really was scored at the 13th. He hooked his drive to the rough, and his second landed in a trap. A magnificent swing with a blaster left him a foot from the hole for his par four, and from there in the little man who hits 'em up with the big boys did not miss. He holed an eight footer after a fine eight iron shot at the 15th, and duplicated that feat on the 17th.

Hogan was rewarded for his labors with $1,200, raising his money winnings for 1941 to $11,567, indicating that he will lead in that department, as he did last year. Wood received $750, and $550 went to Dick Metz of Oak Park, the defending champion, who made a grand finish of 67 to take third place with a 279.

Gonzales Wins Trophy.

The Chicago Open began with the brightest collection of amateurs it ever has attracted, but it remained for a visitor, Mario Gonzales of Rio de Janeiro, to walk off with the M. G. Fessenden trophy, awarded by the president of the Chicago District Golf association to the leading simon pure competitor.

Gonzales, a lean, dark haired youth of 18, whose father is a professional back home, got down to business in the morning with a 67 that included the best nine of the tournament, a 5 under par 31 coming home. In the afternoon he followed up with a 73 for a final total of 286. This was thrifty enough to leave only five professionals in front of him. These were Hogan, Wood, Metz, Jim Ferrier, the home club pro, and Lloyd Mangrum, sensation of the recent PGA tourney. John Barnum of Elmhurst was next best among the amateurs with 287.

Cards for Hogan and Wood for yesterday's final 36 holes:

	Morning Round.
Par—Out	444	345	443	35
Hogan—Out	454	344	344	35
Wood—Out	344	244	443	32

Hogan—In	445	444	333	34—69—138—205
Wood—In	344	354	343	35—67—142—209

	Afternoon Round.

Hogan's morning round included 14 pars, a bogey, and 3 birdies, but 2 of these birdies were in the right place, at the 17th and 18th. He struck a tree trying to escape the result of a bad drive at the 400 yard second, his only error of the round. He holed a six footer for a birdie on the 596 yard

CHAMPAIGN YMCA SWIMMERS LEAD QUALIFYING FIELD

Pace Out of Town Teams for Tribune Finals.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

McKinley YMCA of Champaign, Ill., led the qualifiers for the Chicagoland 100 yard swimming races at the Whealan pool sectional yesterday afternoon. At the same hour Belifuss natatorium and the Oak Park girls' club topped the trials at California park. Each of these three clubs had five winners of gold qualifying medals as a field of 118 contestants was completed for the Chicagoland championships next Sunday.

Preliminaries, at which 49 boys and girls qualified, were held Saturday at Cermak pool and Sherman park. All these successful candidates will receive notices this week to report for the 12th annual finals sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Each of these gold medal winners now is eligible to try for the 10 awards presented in the finals to the champions. Ten silver medals and 10 bronze medals go to swimmers finishing second and third, respectively.

Qualifiers from Three States.

Whealan pool's list of qualifiers included stars from three states and a total of 11 cities outside of Chicago. Chicago clubs, as was to be expected, dominated races at California park.

Three of the youngsters in Class A, for boys 11 and 12 yedrs of age, at Whealan pool had splendid marks for their 100 yard efforts. Edward Howes of Clinton, Ia., Rusty Garst, Madison, Wis., YMCA, and Jack Tully, Kenosha, Wis., Youth Foundation, were within three seconds of one another. Tully's mark of 1:14.8 was best. Dick Howell Jr. of Wilmette, Ill., in Class B for boys 13 and 14 years, swam 100 yards in 1:05.

More Good Marks.

Whealan pool also sent two excellent swimmers into the finals in Class D. Robin Middlemas of the Milwaukee Athletic club qualified in 57 6-10 seconds while Richard Lyon of Highland Park had mark of 56 4-10 seconds. The 100 yards at Whealan pool has one turn. Lyon is the senior Southern Pacific AAU 50 and 100 yard champion and was a national high school title holder. Robert Bennett, a qualifier in Class E, was a member of the Yale university team which established a world record for the 400 yard relay.

Lois Wenzel, Shawnee Country club, and Jane Cloyd, Winnetka, Ill., winners in Classes B and C last year, respectively, qualified from Whealan pool yesterday in higher age divisions. At California park, Dick Upsall of the Midwest Athletic club, who won the boys' Class B title in 1939, qualified for next Sunday's finals in Class C.

The list of yesterday's qualifiers follows:

Hogan's 274 Takes Chicago Open; Wood 2d

6th, and then dropped six foot putts on the 17th and 18th.

Hogan's afternoon round of 69 was ignited with a 10 foot birdie putt on the first hole. From there on he matched par until the 12th, where the Wood partisans began to wonder if their man might not catch up. He hooked his second near a tree, and his third, an attempted low pitch and run, trickled into a bunker, giving him an ultimate six. Came the 13th and his hard earned four. Then followed the eight foot birdies on the 15th and 17th that left him 10 under par for the whole show.

eight inning span, except for a double by Dick Siebert with two out in the sixth and a triple by Ben McCoy with two out in the 11th.

In the Chicago 12th, the only full inning pitched by Ferrick, the winning pitcher, it appeared the Sox might end the game. Myril Hoag walked, reached second on a sacrifice and third on a wild pitch. Then Hoag had to stay on third while Bob Kennedy and Mike Tresh grounded out.

Came the windup 13th. Pete Suder, who had made only one hit in the four game series, singled to center and was forced by Ferrick on an attempted sacrifice. Al Brancato sent a slow grounder and Webb, apparently sizing up his chances for a double play, let the ball go between his heels, Ferrick reaching third and Brancato second.

Ross, who hadn't walked anybody, issued an intentional pass to Wally Moses, loading the bases. McCoy's fly to Kreevich scored Ferrick with the winning run and Johnson's double put Brancato and Moses across the plate.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

IT'S DAY BY DAY LEASE ON LIFE IN MANY PLANTS

Steel Users Await Supply Nightly.

Regular customers of certain large steel mills found their allocations reduced 50 per cent or more last week, and the effect on the output of civilian goods soon will be apparent, the magazine Steel said yesterday.

"Operations of several plants which depend on some scarce specialty, such as silvery pig iron, are literally day by day propositions, plant managers speculating on whether fresh materials will arrive during the night," the magazine said in its weekly review.

"With a rush nonarmament consumers are striving to climb on the arms bandwagon to obtain priorities. A striking case is that of a mousetrap maker who is turning out army cots, army uniform belt hooks and bullet cores, having bought automatic screw machines for making the last, a type of manufacture unrelated to his normal products.

Linked to Lack of Scrap.

"More and more do shortages trace back to scarcity of steel scrap and pig iron. Such shortages now prevent extended production in some cases and are expected to force reduction in steel output later this year. Railroads are returning scrap in much lower than normal volume and after Aug. 1 automobile makers are expected to produce less scrap because of curtailed car output.

"Steel ingot production for the country as a whole sagged a half point last week to 97 per cent of capacity."

CHICAGO RATE RISES

Ingot steel production of Chicago district mills is scheduled to begin this week at 99.9 per cent of theoretical capacity, against 99.6 a week ago.

TAX YIELD GAINS 2 BILLION IN YEAR, TREASURY FINDS

Washington, D. C., July 20 (AP).—Tax collections from all sources during the fiscal year ended June 30 produced $2,023,960,267 more than in the preceding year.

The treasury reported today that income from internal revenue collections in the fiscal year 1941 was $7,364,412,613. It was $5,340,452,346 in the 1940 year.

New York state continued to be the foremost producer with $1,454,505,858, followed by Pennsylvania with $635,831,673 and Illinois with $605,452,806.

'Seize Plant,' Is Union Plea to Roosevelt

Bendix, N. J., July 20 (AP).—The aircraft division of the CIO United Auto Workers of America asked President Roosevelt today to take over the plant of Air Associates, Inc., scene of recent rioting in which six were injured by tear gas or missiles.

In a letter signed by Loren J. Houser, the union's eastern director, the UAWA asked the President to take possession.

The letter asserted that "the company is paying the lowest wages in the aircraft industry," and contended that despite a union victory in a National Labor Relations board election June 1, "the negotiating committee was never able to meet with the company to discuss a contract."

Strike Actions Delayed.

New York, July 20 [Special].—Two strikes were held in abeyance tonight pending further discussion between employers and unions.

Action upon a threatened general strike of the AFL building unions as a result of a jurisdictional dispute over Consolidated Edison company constructions jobs was delayed until after a meeting tomorrow.

Spread of the strike of locals 640 and 334 of the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of North America will be held in abeyance tomorrow pending talks between union officials and Donald King, an executive of Armour & Co. from Chicago. The walkout was called against the New York Butchers' Dressed Meat company, Armour subsidiary.

Cleveland Strike Averted.

Cleveland, O., July 20 [Special].—Union acceptance of wage increase agreements today averted threatened strikes at plants of the White Motor company and the Chase Brass and Copper company.

FIND DOCTOR A GOOD RISK; LAWYER? WELL, HE'S JUST AVERAGE

What do credit men think about business executives, doctors, ministers, policemen, and lawyers, as credit risks? Here is the answer, according to Dr. Paul Converse of the University of Illinois: Business executives rank highest. Doctors are excellent debtors, but policemen and lawyers rate about average. Ministers rank between doctors and lawyers.

ASKS ROOSEVELT TO CALL PARLEY ON AUTO OUTPUT

Detroit, Mich., July 20 (AP).—R. J. Thomas, international president of the United Automobile Workers-CIO, today asked President Roosevelt to call a management-labor conference to discuss the suggested 50 per cent cut in automobile output. The program calling for a cut in half in automobile production in the next 12 months was announced yesterday by Leon Henderson, administrator of prices and civilian supply.

Declaring the reduction would mean serious dislocation of the economic life of automobile manufacturing communities, Thomas told the President in a message:

"We seriously doubt that a sharp cut is necessary or advisable at this time, before machinery and man power made idle ca nbe utilized for defense production."

Predicts Price Rise.

Washington, D. C., July 20 [Special].—Prices of some durable consumers' goods, particularly automobiles, will rise as a result of yesterday's decision to decrease auto, washing machine, and refrigerator output, Harriet Elliott, associate administrator in the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, said today.

REVEAL DOUBLING OF TWO ENGINED BOMBER OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., July 20 (AP).—Production of two-engine bombers was nearly doubled in the first six months of this year, armament officials said today. They disclosed that gains in the output of combat planes had been far greater than indicated by the announced increases in manufacture of all types of aircraft.

Published figures of the Office of Production Management, which do not designate types, show total aircraft production increased 42 per cent from January to June. Output was 1,036 in January and 1,476 in June.

It was learned in other quarters, however, that two-engine bomber production gained 92 per cent, output of one-engine dive and torpedo bombers 146 per cent, and that of pursuit, observation and other military aircraft 142 per cent.

Only in the heavy bomber class—the giant four motored craft—was there no appreciable gain in the six months. Some armament officials attributed this to delays in obtaining certain parts. It was said these difficulties have been overcome.

SPACE FOR GRAIN IN DOWNSTATE BINS ARRANGED

Bloomington, Ill., July 20 [Special].—Downstate grain storage facilities will be used temporarily to handle several million bushels of the overflow crop of wheat, thus helping to relieve glutted conditions at Chicago, elevator men said today. Much of the space that will be utilized had been reserved for soy beans.

Decatur has taken the lead in easing the storage shortage. Archer-Daniels-Midland company is accepting three million bushels of wheat and Spencer, Kellogg & Sons, Inc., is taking in more than 300,000 bushels. A. E. Staley Manufacturing company will receive within the next few days a million bushels.

Reserve Board Industrial Index at All-Time Peak

Washington, D. C., July 20 [Special].—Industrial production reached an all-time high in June at 156 per cent of the 1935-39 average and preliminary estimates indicate a further rise in July, the federal reserve board reported today. Sharp rises in industries associated closely with the defense program, such as aircraft, shipbuilding, machinery and railroad equipment, aided in lifting the industrial activity index from 150 for May.

OPACS Formally Approves Cotton Cloth, Yarn Hike

Washington, D. C., July 20 (AP).—The Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply today formally announced increases ranging from 1 to 4 cents per pound in the price "ceilings" of various categories of cotton yarn and cloth, effective immediately.

FINDS ENGLAND DWARFS AXIS IN GOODS SOURCES

Supplies Available to Foes Compared.

New York, July 20 (AP).—Much study is being devoted to fundamental economic aspects of the struggle between the axis powers and the British Empire, with its "arsenal for democracy" help from America.

Under discussion last week was a survey directed by Dr. Max Winkler, Wall street economist, which held that in 26 of 31 critical economic factors the power of the democracies outweighs that of the axis.

Russia Not Counted.

Winkler's study was based on average year figures. In his "democracies" totals he included the British Empire, the United States, China, and the Dutch territories in the far east. "Axis countries" included, besides Germany, Japan, and Italy, the German dominated countries of Europe.

Russia was not counted in either column, altho Winkler calculated that even adding Russia to the axis score, the democracies still would be superior in 22 out of 31 economic factors.

Some of the more startling contrasts on Winkler's scote card in favor of the democracies were: 47.7 per cent of the world's wheat production, against 6.4 per cent for the axis; corn, 73 per cent for democracies, 17 per cent for axis; cane sugar, 83.7 against 5.3; cotton, 78.8 against none; and rubber, 98.3 against none.

Hold Edge in Coal and Oil.

Important industrial advantages were scored this way, in percentages of the world total: Coal and lignite, 56.3 for the democracies against 33.5 for the axis; petroleum, 72.3 against 3.7; steel ingots, 50.7 against 35.0; copper, 68.0 against 11.9; number of cotton spindles, 56.2 against 33.3; number of automobiles, 78.9 [axis total not accurately known].

Here are some of the places where the axis has the edge, according to Winkler: It produces 42.3 per cent of the world's rye against 1.7 for the democracies; 57.4 per cent of the potatoes against 7 per cent; 29 per cent of the sugar beets against 16 for its opponents, and 83.8 per cent of the silk to the democracies' 8.1 per cent.

SNAPSHOTS, TOO.

I read recently that Standard Brands has opened a film finishing plant in New York City. To what extent has the company gone into the film business? I would also like to have a report on its profits and dividend payments.—K. D.

Answer: Having organized early in 1940 a new division to finish and develop photographic film, Standard Brands, Incorporated, this year broadened its distribution of film to cover the entire area east of the Rocky mountains thru its widespread fast delivery system.

This activity was developed as part of the company's aggressive merchandising policy, which includes extensive advertising of trade name products, such as Fleischmann's yeast and Chase and Sanborn coffee.

Standard Brands is the country's largest producer of yeast and white distilled vinegar. Its other products include coffee, baking powder, tea, gelatin, prepared puddings, pickles, gin, and whisky. The products are distributed thru approximately 600 sales agencies to more than 60,000 bakeries, hotels, and restaurants, and 300,000 grocers in 40,000 communities.

Yeast and coffee are the company's leading revenue producers. Earnings have been fairly steady in the last few years. Results in the last five years follow:

	Net income.	Earned per com.	Dividends per com.
1936	$14,727,449	$1.13	$1.05
1937	9,665,655	0.71	0.80
1938	8,721,305	0.62	0.62½
1939	7,356,308	0.51	0.47½
1940	9,905,523	0.71	0.40

The company has paid dividends on its stocks each year since it was incorporated in 1929. This year, in addition to regular payments on the preferred, the company distributed 40 cents a common share thru July 1.

A CORRECTION.

The contingency reserves and surplus at the end of 1940 of the Philadelphia Life Insurance company were listed incorrectly in the Investor's Guide for July 5 at $31,284. The correct amount is $231,284.

VACATION LOANS

Really enjoy your vacation this year. Take along plenty of cash for those "side" trips and other extra expenses that always go with a truly complete vacation trip. You can get the cash from us and repay it the very day you return if you wish. $50 for instance costs only $1.25 for 30 days and you pay interest only for the time you actually keep the money.

Certainly that is cheap insurance against running short of money in some out-of-the-way place. Just stop in or phone and let us explain how simple it is to get a vacation loan at Commonwealth.
